Saigon Rioters Kidnap Yank, Beat Up Others

CONVERSATION PIECE — Meet Ronald W. Stratton's idea of the most in household furniture; a telephone booth. He and his wife, Hedy, decided to have it installed in the living room of their San Rafael home as a new fun-thing. It certainly stimulates conversation—both inside the booth and out. New Bids Due For City Hall's Furnishings

Too-Plush Lobby Chairs Get Axe From Councilmen

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

There will be no $980 chairs in the lobby of the new San Rafael City Hall.

In fact, there will be no lobby furniture at all when the building opens this

If the lobby is furnished later, the city council hinted broadly last night, it may well be with a pair of $130 benches instead of the six high-priced chairs called for in the original specifications.

Last night's special session was called after councilmen learned of dissatisfaction by several bidders and threw out all bids for furnishings in the new city hall which were opened Monday.

NEW BIDS

Without a formal vote, councilmen last night agreed they would call on April 18 for new bids, to be opened May 2, and would hold another special meeting May 9 to award the contracts.

After more than an hour of discussion with five furniture dealers and a representative of the State Department of Corrections' furniture sales operations, the council concluded that the main complaint by dealers over the original bidding was that did not have time to prepare their bids.

SCHWARTZ CLEARED

Councilmen rejected any thought that Milton Schwartz prepared the specifications in any way to give one firm an advantage over another.

They made no basic change in the specifications although they added a penalty for late delivery and knocked out a

MARIN CITY FIGHT SURRENDERS DUE

Grand Jurors Question Five Deputies About Rash Of Night Disturbances

Five Marin City youths, suspects in Monday night's riot against sheriff's officers, were scheduled to be surrendered at the sheriff's office for booking this afternoon, then arraigned in Marin Municipal Court.

Charged with felony battery on deputies are Phillip Scott, 19, Morrison Smith, 17, and Edward Boon Green, 20.

Misdemeanor charges have been filed against Claude Burton, 21, on two counts of obstructing officers from performing their duties, and James Otis Ames, 17, for three counts — throwing a rock at a patrol car occupied by officers, and two counts of obstructing officers from performing their duties.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who filed the complaints yesterday, said he was withholding service of the arrest warrants on the representation of the youths' attorneys, Richard Wirthimer and Benjamin Dreyfus, that they would present four of the suspects at 1 p.m. today. Ames was held in juvenile hall.

He said bail on the felonies will be $1,650 for each of the three defendants, and $276 each for Burton and Ames.

An investigation into all recent Marin City uprisings was launched yesterday by the law enforcement committee of the 1966 Marin County Grand Jury.

Headed by William R. Davis, committee chairman, but attended also by James S. Goodale, jury foreman, the committee spent about two and one-half hours quizzing five sherriff's officers presented by bales, who had requested the inquiry.

The officers, Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, Sgt. Edward Levine, and Deputies Carl Tim Wiese, Charles Prandi, and Fred Garrison, related Monday night's events in which an es-

Homeowners Draw Line At Protest Rally

Marin City Homeowners and Improvement Assn. board members agreed last night that they will go out of their way to help the youths of Marin City if they are right—but not if they are wrong.

Representatives of the Marin Congress of Racial Equality and Marin City Community Action Committee asked the association to join in a march on the county courthouse to protest against arrests of youths for Monday night's rock-throwing at law enforcement officers.

The board refused, Mrs. Mary Freeman, corresponding secretary, reported today.

"We will go 100 per cent if they are right but not if they are wrong. The things they did, such as throwing rocks and setting places afire, were wrong," said Mrs. Freeman. "We don't prefer that they do things in violence. At this rate, they would set our houses afire.

"If it was my son, I would go myself but I wouldn't ask the community to go," Mrs. Freeman added.

Attendance at the homeowners meeting, normally about 15 to 20 persons, soared to 75 last night, Mrs. Freeman reported.

Forms for new members were distributed, to be returned at the next board meeting, May 4.

"We are planning several types of programs and membership forms include activities for persons to check," Mrs. Freeman reported. "We would like to know what they would like us to start doing."

Included in the activities, said Mrs. Freeman, are music, drama, folk dancing, weight control exercises, a youth achievement program, and gardening and landscaping.

Mobs Also Roaming In Hue, Da Nang

SAIGON (UPI)—Rioters beat and kicked Americans, kidnaped one and battled Vietnamese paratroopers in an outbreak of anti-Americanism tonight. Student mobs also were reported in Hue and Da Nang.

Buddhist leaders earlier today reached a truce with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky promising return in five or six months to civilian rule but mobs surged out of hand through Saigon tonight waving "end the war" banners and hunting for Americans to attack.

They beat several servicemen and burned a U.S. Army jeep while youngsters danced and sang around the flames. The rioters than hauled an American civilian and his Vietnamese girl friend off his motorcycle, beat him, burned the motorcycle and then drove away with him in a station wagon.

USE CLUBS

Saigon police and government paratroopers used clubs and tear gas against the demonstrators but the mob violence was the worst in four consecutive nights of rioting. Police also were reported using nausea gas.

The worst outbreak occurred in front of Saigon's great Buddhist pagoda. Buddhist leaders claimed the rioters were not their followers and that Buddhist students were respecting the truce. They said the youths rampaging through the streets were "hoodlums", possibly urged on by Communist Viet Cong agitators.

A second unidentified Westerner was reported missing by U.S. Army Military Policemen who moved on the fringes of the rioting, trying to separate Americans from the fury.

CONG SUSPECTED

Fear grew in the capital that Communist Viet Cong elements had moved into what had been Buddhist-led anti-government demonstrations. The Viet Cong were suspected of turning the mobs against the Americans.

The riots themselves started in defiance of an appeal by Buddhist leaders who said they

Prisoners Massacred By Viet Cong

SAIGON (UPI) —Viet Cong guerrillas machine-gunned 25 chained and helpless Vietnamese captives when American-led south Vietnamese troops closed in on a jungle prison, military spokesmen reported today. Only four of the prisoners survived.

The spokesman said the massacre took place near Phu Lam, about 70 miles southwest of Saigon.

Most of the victims were civilians and three of the chained and padlocked captives were women. The spokesman said five of the prisoners lived through the shooting but one died soon after his chains had been sawed off.

The survivors said the Viet Cong had been shuttling them from prison to prison when, as government troops closed in, the Communists suddenly announced they were setting the prisoners free.

It was just after dawn yesterday morning. One of the prisoners, Le Quang Hoa, said he and the other captives began hobbling away as fast as their chains allowed.

Then the Communists opened

DiGiorgio Is Ready To Negotiate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The DiGiorgio Corp., biggest employer in the Delano area where grape pickers have struck, announced today it would negotiate wages with a union — if workers want a union. (See also story, photo, page 8.)

The announcement came at a news conference as a small band of striking farm workers were in the 21st day of their 300-mile march from Delano to Sacramento in protest of pay and working conditions.

The DiGiorgio announcement came on the heels of the first major breakthrough in the farm labor situation — an agreement by Schenley Industries yesterday to negotiate with the National Farm Workers Association.

Rocket Launching Scheduled Tonight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, frustrated by nine postponements in 10 days, was to try again tonight to launch an Atlas-Centaur rocket for the first test firing of a first double ignition, hydrogen engine in space.

The firing was scheduled for 8 p.m. EST.

PHONE BOOTH IN HOUSE

Their Party Line Is A Bell Ringer

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Ronald W. Stratton and his wife, Heddy, have taken to living outside a telephone booth. Put another way, they've had a telephone booth move in with them in their San Rafael duplex home.

Whichever way you look at it, you can't ignore it. . .big, shiny, glassy and plonked down right where most other folks put a television set or a coffee table.

To guests who need an explanation, it's a regular Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. phone booth, the type few people give a second glance in the street.

Even the PT&T engineer, with 40 years experience installing booths, stood aghast when he arrived from the Oakland depot to begin work at 32 Marin Street.

"I think it should go facing the window," Stratton told him.

"But, dear, it will blend far better with the decor over there," said his wife. It went over there, and the engineer left shaking his head.

Stratton, who works for a brokerage firm in San Francisco, said today: "It's good fun. I must admit, the monster took a bit of getting used to at first, but now it matches the furniture."

Atop the initial $15 installation fee and the regular phone rental, the Strattons pay $2.50 a month to lease the booth. PT&T insisted the pay phone be taken out, and the normal house phone be put in its place. That, said Stratton, was the only modification.

"Relatives think it's great fun and that there should be more in the world," he added.

Mrs. Stratton was a little dubious at first about sharing her home with a blank-eyed booth. "Now," she said," I think it is the most normal thing to have in a house." Doesn't everyone?

U.S. Navy Recovers H-Bomb From Spanish Coast Waters

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI)—The U.S. Navy recovered a 1.1-megaton hydrogen bomb today from sea waters 2,500 feet deep, ending a three month search which provided propaganda ammunition for foes of the United States.

A U.S. Embassy announcement said the bomb was brought to the surface near this south Spanish coastal town and hoisted aboard a waiting ship at 7:40 a.m (1:40 a.m. EST). The bomb was undamaged.

A U.S. spokesman said the bomb was pulled up by the small submarine rescue vessel Petrel. A 1,650-ton vessel, the Petrel is jammed with special equipment for underwater operations.

U.S. officials would not comment, but informants said that the successful cable hitch to the bomb was made by a torpedo recovery vehicle flown to the scene from Pasadena, Calif.

Further details will be made public Friday.

The bomb was one of four scattered over a wide area Jan. 17 when a B-52 bomber crashed after colliding with a KC-135 tanker over southern Spain. The other three bombs were

Courthouse Block Split Suggested

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Sale of the northern 70 per cent of the courthouse block in San Rafael, retaining the balance for a public park, should bring $693,000 for land and $250,000 for the courthouse annex, according to a San Francisco real estate consulting firm.

Consultants Marshall and Stevens, hired by county supervisors at $4,600 to do the report, recommended that the buyer of the property retain and refurbish the annex for office rental and build a retail complex of 37,000 square feet with parking for 167 cars on the roof of the new building. The old courthouse would be torn down.

The consultants say the buyer would have to invest $1,159,000 for improvements, including $250,000 for purchase of the courthouse annex.

The buyer, the report says, could not be expected to invest in underground parking. This could be done by the city, however, through agreement with the buyer.

The report sets the total sales price for land and buildings at $942,000, prior to commissions. (This is $1,000 short of the sum of $250,000 and $693,000, for some reason not explained.)

'BATTLE FLAG'

Special Forces, Old Lady Team In Airmen Swindle

SAIGON (UPI)—Some of the men in the green berets have red faces today. The "great Viet Cong battle flag swindle" is over.

The green berets—the rugged U.S. Special Forces troops who fight the Communists in the swamps and jungle—had a good thing going. They sold bogus Viet Cong battle flags to souvenir-hungry Air Force pilots stationed in Saigon.

The airmen paid $25 for the flags—red and blue with a gold star—and had no way of knowing they were fake.

The green berets hired a litle old lady in a Saigon back street to stitch up the flags, and then stomped them in mud and sprinkled them with chicken blood.

Then a terrible thing happened. Vietnamese police discovered 30 of the "Viet Cong" flags and arrested the seamstress.

It took the embarrassed green berets two days to explain and get the little old lady out of jail.

Few Clues To Missing Heiress

DEL MAR (AP)—A letter from her boy friend has offered few clues to the disappearance of the 15-year-old heiress to part of the J. C. Penney fortune.

The letter to Edith Angelia Jenkins was given to the sheriff's office yesterday after deputies revealed she had been missing from her Del Mar home since March 25.

Edith

The letter, allegedly written by Donald Collins, 19, of Cardiff. Collins also is missing.

It told of the writer's boredom and unhappiness.

"This place is screwed up. I tell you. I hate it more than anything in the whole world. I just plain hate it," the letter said.

Donald

Sheriff's Capt. Warren Kanagy said he would like to talk to Collins about the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson whose bodies were found in their Del Mar beachfront home March 23.

Kanagy said that Collins is not a suspect but might be able to help in the investigation.

Edith is the granddaughter of Mrs. Daniel Jarman of Salem, Ore., widow of one of the founders of the J. C. Penney Stores.

Unruh Sales Tax Over One Hurdle

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A continued fiscal fight today produced committee approval of a 1-cent sales tax increase and renewed demands by Assembly Republicans that Gov. Edmund G. Brown abandon his plan to avoid a tax hike.

In advance of a news conference, Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, said the GOP was ready to spell out its terms for supporting the Democratic governor's spending bill.

The budget, $4.64 billion when introduced Tuesday, was scaled down to $4.62 billion by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee yesterday.

The big Republican demand wasn't new: abandonment of a one - shot scheme to count an additional $243 million as in the state treasury in the next fiscal year without raising taxes.

To do it, the state would adopt an old business practice of accruing revenues—counting money owed by taxpayers before it is received, as a storeowner counts unpaid bills as assets.

Monagan said the GOP also continued to question the administration's decision to move ahead with the budget, although some $555 million in bond issues needed to help balance it haven't passed the Senate. Both the legislature and the voters must approve the bond issues—one $260 million for aid to local schools and the other $295 million to finance state construction.

A powerful Democrat, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, pushed the sales tax boost out of the Ways and Means Committee.

Boosting the tax from 4 cents to 5, it would raise $360 million for local schools and require an average 25 per cent cut in the property tax.

But he didn't have the support of the governor or the committee chairman, Robert W. Crown, D - Alameda, who is steering Brown's budget through the Assembly.

Unruh said "if the administration doesn't support this bill, there's very little chance it will pass" the Senate.

He offered to cut $26 million from the bill to answer administration complaints that it's out of balance by that much.

The tax hike, Unruh said, would correct "the two grave areas neglect in this state. One is the disparity of educational opportunities . . . Second is our constant reliance on property taxes."

"As long as we continue to rely as heavily as we do on the property tax, we cannot claim an interest in fair taxation," he said.

Collegians' Vacations Seem Tamer, Beach Cities Say

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Too much fuzz, the kids observe. Too much drinking, the police say. And all agree there's plenty of both as thousands of the country's college set hits the beaches and bars for an Easter blowout.

"I've never seen so many policemen before in my whole life," said Bruce Fowler, 18, Atlanta, Ga.

Fowler is one of 40,000 students who have already crammed this town of 37,000. The Chamber of Commerce expects 100,000 to be lolling on the white beaches, wandering in the crowded streets and bursting out of the jammed motels by Easter Sunday.

Although hundreds have been arrested since the spring vacations began six weeks ago, Chamber of Commerce President O.L. White said the kids are nothing like the gangs of 1961 and 1962 that tossed sharks into swimming pools, swamped yachts and rioted in the streets of Fort Lauderdale.

Since then, the Fort Lauderdale Easter crowds have shrunk and only 7,500 are expected.

A tent set up by local clergymen sits amid the bikini-clad lasses and strewn beer cans on the Daytona beaches. It is intended to have an inhibiting influence on the kids.

However, a senior from Jersey City College said it "doesn't disturb our activities."

NO FUNDS SET FOR PURCHASE OF REDWOODS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House approved yesterday an appropriation of $17,971,500 for land acquisition by the National Park Service.

This was $10,344,500 less than the President Budgeted. The items are in the Interior Department appropriations bill.

The House Appropriations Committee had deleted requests for $10 million for Redwood National Park in California because it had not been authorized by Congress.

Funds approved for various land acquisitions include:

Whiskeytown National Recreation Area, California, $14,425,000.

Income Tax 'Fix' Denied By IRS Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen of the Internal Revenue Service has denied that a former IRS agent was fired because he refused to join in a "fix."

The former agent, Archie P. Sherar, testified last week before a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., that he had been ordered to falsify records in a 1962 tax dispute between clients of a San Francisco accountant, Nathan Friedman, and the IRS. Sherar said he believed Friedman was a personal friend of former IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin.

In a letter sent yesterday to Long, Cohen said Sherar had been discharged "because he refused to cooperate and furnish records for the audit of his own tax returns."

He said: "There is no foundation to the allegation of a personal relationship" between Caplin and Friedman.

Congress Heads Home For Easter Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress starts its Easter recess today after approving the food-for-India program and a two-month extension in signups for doctors' bills insurance under Medicare.

In a big pre-holiday push yesterday, the House also passed a 2.9-per cent pay raise for 1.8 million federal workers and two major money bills totaling $8.3 billion to finance activities of the Treasury, Post Office and Interior Departments in the ifscal year starting July 1.

The Senate was busy approving President Johnson's proposal to transfer the Community Relations Service, which mediates civil rights disputes, from the Commerce to the Justice Department.

After recessing today the House will be off until April 18.

The Senate plans to come back April 13 for debate — but no immediate action — on Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment to modify the Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned according to population.

Apparently buried in the flurry of legislative activity yesterday was what House Speaker John W. McCormack termed a misunderstanding involving the House Democratic leadership and 22 Western Democratic House members — most of them firm administration backers.

They charged that the Democratic whip organization, which checks members' views and attempts to line up votes for administration bills, had leaked information to some lobbyists and White House aides — who then tried to exert pressure on some of them.

The chief Democratic House whip, Louisiana's Hale Boggs, called the whole thing "a tempest in a teapot" and said usually "we know how they are going to vote, whether there is a count or not."

The Great Lakes form the largest body of fresh water in the world.

Lawyer Says He Split Fee With Wolden

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney Albert F. Skelly told a Superior Court jury yesterday that he split a fee with Assessor Russell L. Wolden, who steered him to a tax client.

The San Francisco lawyer said at Wolden's bribery and conspiracy trial that he gave the assessor $5,000 of a $6,000 fee paid him by American Home Products Corp. Skelly said he kept the rest.

Skelly said he got the job of representing the firm in its County assessor's office after he was introduced to company officers by Wolden.

He testified that he himself never went to Oakland to present the corporation's returns to the assessor there but accepted Wolden's suggestion that he let tax consultant Bill Brothers of Fullerton argue the company's case.

Community TV Lashed As Bad For Stations

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A Springfield, Mass., broadcaster charged yesterday that community antenna television (CATV) was a threat to the existence of some small local stations.

William L. Putnam told the House Commerce Committee that CATV had forced his station at Keene, N.H., out of business by refusing to carry its signals locally.

Putnam, appearing at the hearing on proposed federal regulation of CATV, also contended the CATV system had often brought in the program he offered from other areas, and cut into his advertising revenues.

A CATV backer said that broadcasters feared the competition of CATV and its stimulation for better programming. He said proposed regulations were aimed at halting CATV growth.

Other congressional news:

Vote: Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said his proposal to override the Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" ruling will be up for Senate consideration after members return from the Easter recess next Wednesday. His plan would allow one House of a state legislature to use something other than population as a basis for apportioning that House's seats.

Polls: Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., proposed yesterday that all United States polling places close at the same time in presidential elections. He said this would dampen the effect of Eastern returns on Westerners who have not voted while Eastern polls are already closed.

Subway Police Buildup Works

NEW YORK (AP) — "Operation Crackdown," which put uniformed policemen in every subway and train, has cut major nighttime subway crime by 62.3 per cent in its first year, the Transit Authority says.

But the transit police say they are strained by the extra night work, and demand that the 2,722 - member force be nearly doubled.

"Operation Crackdown" was launched one year ago today by the then Mayor Robert F. Wagner after a series of brutal subway murders, robberies and assaults.

had reached a truce with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky in their efforts to attain a civilian government. One Buddhist monk tried to halt the mob. But another monk was seen to egg them on.

Police and crack Vietnamese paratroopers chased the students with tear gas and bayonets. Police later were reported using vomit gas against the mobs who were reported armed with knives and hand grenades. There was no sign the mobs used the weapons, but police hurled tear gas grenades by the dozen.

Buddhist leaders had called a truce in their dispute with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky which centered on demands for an elected assembly. They also had asked a halt to the rioting that has plagued Saigon all week. The Buddhist leaders acted after Ky bowed to mounting pressure and sent them a formal note promising a return to constitutional government within four or six months.

The students defied moderate Buddhist leaders who only hours earlier had issued a special communique announcing that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government had promised a constitutional assembly leading to civilian rule within six months.

The communique, issued by Thick (Venerable) Tam Chau, leader of the Buddhist Institute, urged the students to "temporarily halt all forms of struggle."

Chau is a leader of the moderate wing of the Buddhist church. The more militant leaders, who have said they would settle for nothing less than the immediate downfall of the Ky government, apparently did not go along with his plea.

The agreement for a constitutional assembly was hammered out between Ky and three Buddhist monks — Chau, Thic Hoa Giac, leader of Buddhist chaplains and Thich Thien Minh, leader of the Buddhist youths—yesterday.

In his communique Chau said the Buddhist Institute also sent an "official note" back to Ky asking him to put in writing other points on which they had verbally agreed.

These include manesty for those arrested during the rioting and withdrawal of any punishment or ousting of civil servants and military men who have contributed to the unrest.

The Buddhist demand that participants in the disorders not be punished particularly was directed at Ky's vow to execute Da Nang Mayor Nguyen Van Man as a traitor for using public funds to organize anti-government demonstrations.

Saigon's mayor, Lt. Col. Van Van Cua, issued orders for the immediate induction into the military of all youths of draft age arrested in the rioting, municipal government sources reported.

On the war front, troops of the U.S. 25th Division captured a Viet Cong base camp in heavy fighting 20 miles north of Saigon today and killed at least 24 Communists. U.S. Air Force and Navy planes carried out heavy attacks against the Communist north.

The military announced that 101 Americans were killed and 690 wounded in combat the week ending April 2, a slight drop from the 123 killed the previous week. The South Vietnamese lost an estimated 156 killed and other Allies 18 killed. Viet Cong losses were 962 dead and 73 captured.

paragraph which might have permitted some bidders to bid a unit price rather than item-by-item.

Omitted, however, were the six chairs and table which had been called for in the lobby. The chairs, as specified, retail at $980 apiece. Schwartz had conceded they would probably have cost the city about $580 each.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen berated Schwartz at some length for allowing these models to be included in the first specifications, and voiced skepticism at Schwartz's contention that specific lines of merchandise must be named to establish levels of quality in bids for furniture.

Jensen was urged to calm his anger by Councilmen Harry A. Barbier and Louis H. Baar. Barbier insisted the city "would have to go at least $375 apiece" for chairs that would last.

Later, councilmen appeared enthusiastic when Schwartz showed them a photo of a six-foot long, upholstered bench which retails at $130. They said they might consider a pair of these, instead of the six chairs, when they get around to furnishing the lobby—but they concluded they were in no rush.

When a dealer in the audience asked Schwartz why he could not have named several alternate manufacturers, he replied that this "would be another source of confusion," and it would be hard to assure that all comparable lines were included.

Jensen, however, pointed out the federal General Services Administration lists as many as 10 brands with the words "or equal" at the end when it calls for bids on many items.

Among the bidders next time will be the Department of Corrections, councilmen were assured by the department's furniture sales chief, David Williamson of Sacramento.

Williamson renewed his Monday invitation for councilmen to visit the wood furniture factory at San Quentin Prison. He said furniture made there exceeds commercial work in its quality standards.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen told Williamson he agreed with this statement, "but I'm scared to death of your delivery.

"You've never, never—so help me, God—delivered on the date you've promised."

Williamson had said Monday the prison could deliver the furniture by July 15. He revised this last night to say delivery could be made within 90 days after awarding of contract. Commercial dealers said this was on a par with their ability to deliver.

Councilmen declined a suggestion by Williamson that they allow the prison to negotiate for wood furniture rather than offer competitive bids. Williamson afterward said such "negotiation" would offer no hope of a lower price since the state sells its prison-made furniture at a fixed set of prices with no exception.

Councilman Charles W. Aby was absent from the special session. Before the meeting, the council privately interviewed an applicant for the job of city planner in Andersen's office. Andersen said no decision was reached.

Domino Tournament To Help On Memorial

A "world's championship poor man's domino tournament" will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Mill Valley Tennis Club, proceeds to go toward a fund for a memorial to former club member, Samuel A. Johnson of Mill Valley, who died about a month ago.

Bridge Board Asks About Deck Funding

The bond committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today asked for a report on various ways the proposed second deck could be financed.

At suggestion of director Ben K. Lerer, committee members asked General Mgr. James Adams and attorney Jerome White to prepare a written report on financing methods.

Directors also wondered out loud whether the bridge district can be dissolved after the original bonds are paid off in 1971.

Attorney White said the district is still indebted to the state for construction of the Waldo Tunnel, and this bonded indebtedness will go beyond 1971.

As long as bonded indebtedness exists, it is attorney White's opinion that the state Legislature cannot dissolve the district.

BOMB

recovered on land.

Thousands of U.S. servicemen, a dozen naval vessels and three midget submarines took part in the massive search and recovery operation. Their task included the collection of tons of earth slightly contaminated with radioactivity for disposal in the United States.

The earth was contaminated with small amounts of radioactive matter when one of the bombs that fell on land cracked open. Tests established that no one had been exposed to radiation of dangerous intensity.

After weeks of searching, the bomb was located March 15 lying on the slopes of a muddy ridge nearly a half-mile below the surface of the sea. The first three attempts to lift it failed when recovery cables broke.

Loss of the nuclear weapon had wide international ramifications for the United States.

The Spanish government banned all future flights of U.S. nuclear-armed bombers over its territory, a move which limited effectiveness of U.S. Strategic Air Command bases in Spain.

At the 17-nation disarmament talks in Geneva, Russia accused the United States of violating the 1963 nuclear test ban treaty and contaminating international waters with deadly radioactivity.

Seven men were killed in the collision when the bomb was lost and eight more died when a C-124 cargo plane flying a load of buses and supplies to the search crews crashed into a nearby mountain.

PLANS

tants had the $942,000 estimate several weeks ago. It is considerably under the $1.4 million estimate for the courthouse sale figured in earlier financing of the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center.

The larger estimate by county staff, however, did not anticipate retaining 30 per cent of the block along Fourth Street. The Fourth Street frontage for a city or county park was part of a recommendation by consultant Daniel P. Coleman, who studied the planning possibilities of the block for the city.

County Administrator Alan Bruce, who released the Marshall and Stevens report today, said he wants to make a thorough analysis before making any recommendation to supervisors. The supervisors received copies of the report on Tuesday, Bruce said.

Financial consultants Tone and Youngberk also have the block under study. Bruce said completion of that firm's report has been held up pending the Marshall and Stevens study.

Marshall and Stevens, studying the needs of the San Rafael business center and the northern part of Marin, see a rapidly increasing need for office space.

The report says the space need will grow from the present 10,000 square feet to 90,000 square feet in 1975.

ARRESTS

timated 100 youths swamped officers attempting to arrest Ames for alleged rock-throwing.

Details of the arrest were also given. Officer Prandi, who has been taken off the Marin City patrol and assigned elsewhere, was asked for and gave recommendations on the community's explosive situation.

Three other deputies, Richard Keaton, Wyman Tong, one of the original arresting officers of Ames, and Dennis Shine were available to the committee but were not called for questioning.

No meeting date for continued investigation by the committee was immediately set, according to Goodale.

Although bloodied, he was the only survivor not critically wounded.

Some of the victims had been held by the Viet Cong since September. The Communists kidnaped Hoa and his wife Feb. 9 because he had been friendly to government forces.

Larkspur Council Axes Strange Old Ordinances

By STEPHEN COOK

Early in the 20th Century, the Larkspur board of trustees (city council) enacted an ordinance which forced any member who failed to attend a meeting, without first getting permission, to face a night of hiding as a fugitive from justice.

When the trustees convened and found this member as absent, the law required the board president to order the town marshal to seek out the delinquent town father, apprehend the rascal and bring him to the meeting, forcibly if necessary.

When the culprit had been duly apprehended and seated by the marshal, then the ordinance gave the board president two options. The offending trustee could be excused, if his explanation was valid, or he could be publicly reprimanded.

Larkspur city councilmen, who were all present last night, took steps to repeal this somewhat barbarous ordinance. They introduced a repealer ordinance which would strike from town records this and other obsolete or redundant laws.

The archaic ordinances were discovered in the process of codifying Larkspur ordinances. They will disappear completely when the repealer is adopted at the council's next regular meeting.

Also to fall prey to his repealer ordinance is an anachronism which requires all persons in Larkspur to wear four-ply gauze face masks duran epidemic of Spanish influenza.

The world has realigned since this emergency ordinance was enacted by town trustees Oct. 25, 1918, during the World War I flu epidemic. The flu nowadays is called Asian.

Most of the ordinances being repealed have been replaced by state laws or newer ordinances, such as the one which requires a license for anyone keeping "a saloon, bar, store, dram shop, tippling place, stand or any other place where spirituous, malt, or fermented liquor or wine is stored, sold, bartered or given away."

Beating Report Bill Passes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate has passed, 21-3, a bill requiring county welfare directors and public and private school superintendents and principals to report suspected cases of child beating to police.

The measure, by Assemblyman Winfield A. Shoemaker, D-Lompoc, was returned to the Assembly for approval of Senate amendments. The bill was passed by the Assembly earlier in the session.

Sen. Clark Bradley, R-San Jose, voiced a fear that the bill might put a parent in jail because of a routine spanking. But the fear was not shared by many of his colleagues.

FIRST AID ON THE JOB

Prevention as well as cure is the purpose of a first aid program held in San Rafael and Novato under the joint sponsorship of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross and Operating Engineers Union Local 3. Learning to prevent accidents and to treat injuries when they occur are 60 safety committee chairmen, job stewards and union members who later have an opportunity to undertake advanced courses and become instructors. Pictured here, Instructor Roger Sanderson demonstrates bandaging on Jay L. Hoffman of Fairfax while Frank Szomjas of San Rafael and business agent J. B. Jennings (standing) look on. The program here is part of one throughout Northern California and Nevada sponsored by Red Cross and union.

Scientists Trace Out Muscle-Nerve Paths

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three anatomists reported today they have charted in detail the never-fiber paths over which the brain receives sensory information from the skin and from muscles.

They have traced to the terminal points the nerve paths over which the brain sends signals directing voluntary actions of the body, they said.

The papers of the three anatomists from the University Medical Center of Cleveland were presented at the conference of the American Assn. of Anatomists.

They were Doctors Henricus G. J. M. Kuypers, Donald G. Lawrence and Deespak Pandya, all of Western Reserve University school of medicine, a part of the University Medical Center.

The front part of the upper brain, they reported, is connected by nerve fibers with the brain's two motor pathways controlling movements. One pathway originates at the base of the brain; the other, from the surface of the brain. Each has quite different functions in controlling body movement.

The nerve pathways are connected to the muscles in two ways. Some nerves terminate directly on muscle nerve cells controlling movement of fingers and toes. Some end on nerve cells interposed between the brain pathways and the muscle nerve cells which activate larger muscles.

Those terminating directly on muscle nerve cells are most numerous for muscles of the fingers and toes, permitting precise and separate movement. Peter Sterling, a predoctoral fellow in anatomy at Western Reserve, reported separately on that phase of the research.

The overall finding was considered important partly because of possible future implications in treating patients with spinal cord injuries.

Car Clouters Take Two Tape Players

Two San Rafael residents yesterday reported their cars had been broken into and auto stereo tapeplayers removed. In each case the right wing window of the car was smashed to gain entry.

DuPuis A. Gean of 1533 Lincoln Avenue, said the player and 10 tapes were taken, for a $220 loss. Harvey B. Jans of 64 Ridge Avenue, said eight tapes were taken. He set his loss at $204, according to San Rafael police.

Cardinal Under Fire After Student's Altar Removed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A student leader at Jesuit-operated Loyola University says he plans to complain to Pope Paul VI about the removal of an altar that faced the congregation.

After some 400 students protested the action by James Francis Cardinal McIntyre yesterday, Jim Freeman said:

"This is but the most recent of a long series of such negative actions. The Cardinal has the legal jurisdiction to order the altar removed, but we believe he acted arbitrarily and without considering the religious desires of the students."

Freeman, student body president at the university, said he would complain to the Pope. Some of the students demonstrated at the chancery, and a delegation later was received in conference by the Cardinal.

The altar was erected two years ago and positioned to face the congregation rather than in the traditional back-to-the worshipers position, in an attempt to give the laity a sense of more active participation in the Mass. This was an Ecumenical Council recommendation.

The protest Wednesday followed an earlier action by the students in which the senior class voted not to ask Cardinal McIntyre to distribute diplomas at graduation exercises.

Soldier Escapes From Stockade

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A soldier escaped from the Presidio stockade yesterday by running a stolen truck through a roadblock as a military policeman fired at him.

Army spokesmen said Pvt. Quinones L. Santiago, 21, confined to the stockade since Monday, took a gardner's truck and drove through the Presidio Boulevard entrance. A military policeman fired a shot into the vehicle's hood.

The truck was later found abandoned. Santiago was being held on charges of being absent without leave.

Crackdown Seen Unlikely On Obscenity

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court's recent rulings on obscenity do not seem likely to produce any massive crackdowns on pornography, a UPI spot check showed today.

Prosecutors are still as confused as the court's nine justices on the key question of just how dirty is dirty.

SURVEY RESULTS

The survey of prosecutors and police in key cities across the nation also showed that the court's March 21 addition of the nature of advertising as a factor in obscenity judgments may guarantee the justices the book-by-book task of making the ultimate decisions in such cases.

The consensus that did appear was a measure of hope the prosecutors found that it would improve their chances for convictions.

That definition, given nine years ago, held that obscenity was established if the dominant theme of the material "taken as a whole appeals to the prurient interest" of the average person and is "utterly without redeeming social importance."

Added to this by the court in upholding the conviction of publisher Ralph Ginzburg was whether "the leer of the sensualist" prevailed in the advertising of the material.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said in a majority opinion for five justices that if "the purveyor's sole emphasis is on the sexually provocative aspects of his publication, that fact may be decisive in the determination of obscenity."

Larkspur Undecided On Park Bond Issue

Marin County Supervisor Peter H. Behr exchanged views on the proposed $4,300,000 county park bond issue with a not-too-sympathetic Larkspur City Council last night.

The council, which would need a local $800,000 bond issue to finance a planned 47-acre park and Civic Center within city limits, did not give the county bond issue the endorsement sought by Behr. Neither did it vote to oppose the issue.

Behr provided figures, which he said came from County Auditor Michael Mitchell, showing a county bond issue, which would give Larkspur $129,747, could be financed at a three and three-quarters per cent interest rate. A Larkspur municipal bond would cost four and one eighth per cent interest, he said.

Behr maintained that a Larkspur citizen with a $20,000 home would pay $1.60 per $100,000 for a county bond and $2.24 for a Larkspur bond.

Former City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said he doubted the figures Behr was using, "but assuming they were true, it comes down to the fact that a guy could pay less and still not have a park or pay more and have a park."

"That $129,000," he said, "would just about put in the sprinkling system for our park."

Behr stressed the assumption that any funds the city received could be doubled by matching them with federal funds. Piper said he doubted if the city could get the federal funds.

Behr said that if the city supports the county bond issue, it will be in a good position to put its own bond issue on the November ballot.

"You would have cooperated in a campaign which would have exposed your constituents to the need for such facilities. Far from being a deterrent to your chances for success with a city bond issue, I believe it will be a catalyst," he said.

Councilman Robert J. Smith responded: "In asking us to approve this bond issue, you are starting us on a running proposition to match our funds with free funds from the county and federal government.

"I'm afraid that, in the process, we would be building a tax situation we may not be ready to support. With this and the flood control project popping up on next year's tax bill, it would mean a nine or 10 cent increase in one year, from county-instigated projects, then we have to go back and pass our own bond issue."

Councilmen, after the discussion, thanked Behr for his time but went no farther.

San Rafael Owners Seek Large Group

A new group designed to further communication between the many homeowners associations in and around San Rafael will be formed Wednesday.

Richard E. Florian, member of the Terra Linda Valley Property Owners Assn. and one of the organizers of the new group, said the meeting place has not been determined, but it probably will be in a private home at 8 p.m.

Officers for the group—to be called the United Home Owners Assn. of Greater San Rafael—will be elected at the meeting.

Seeds of the organization, said Florian, go back a year or two when it was first discussed by members of some of the nine or 10 homeowners groups active in the San Rafael area. Recently, representatives of these groups have met twice to study the idea, and committees of two or three people have worked on the by-laws.

Florilan promised that a complete statement of the association's aims will be released soon after Wednesday's meeting.

Crest Of Red River Flood Is Pushed Toward Canada

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (UPI) —The crest of the swollen Red River today pushed toward Canada as hundreds of volunteers—many of them schoolchildren — worked through the night to reinforce an aging dike.

The Red, which flows from south to north, was spread 12 miles wide in some sections. Estimates of the number of persons driven from their homes ranged up to 2,000 in North Dakota and Minnesota. Hundreds of Canadian residents were displaced as well.

The Small Business Administration declared flood-damaged sections of the two states disaster area yesterday. The flooding along the 545-mile river was the worst of the century.

More than 2,800 persons fled their homes in southern Manitoba on orders of Premier Duff Roblin as the Red surged northward. Some 700 members of the Canadian Armed Forces helped build emergency dikes along the river between the border town of Emerson and Winnepeg, 60 miles to the North.

Former Planner To Be Honored

The Fairfax City Council is scheduled to honor Capt. Daniel M. Miller, former chairman of the Fairfax Planning Commission, at its meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council plans to present Miller with a framed copy of its resolution commending him for his efforts on the planning commission, particularly for his work toward the Fairfax master plan.

Miller, retired from the Navy, served on the commission from Nov. 19, 1959, until he resigned last August because of failing eye sight.

Landscape Painter

Landscape painter Ray Strong of Mill Valley will speak on "Man, Nature and the Artist" at the San Farncisco State College auditorium Tuesday at 12:30 p.m.

The lecture, one in the college's series of talks, will be sponsored by the arts program of the Assn. of American Colleges.

Elections May Become Standardized

Standardization of special district elections may be achieved by the fall of 1969, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today.

Bills are under study in the State Assembly which would require elections for several types of special districts, including fire, public utility and sanitary districts, to conform with requirements of the 1965 Uniform Election Act.

This sets the election for the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of every odd numbered year. It also sets the nomination petition requirement at no less than 10 signatures and calls for a 25-day filing period ending the 50th day prior to the election.

Maloney said further bills are expected in next year's session of the legislature which would bring other special districts under the same requirements.

Maloney and other county officials have been studying ways to standardize election and end special district voting confusion.

San Carlos was named for Saint Charles Borromeo, Archbishop of Milan. Name chosen because the Portola expedition first saw San Francisco Bay from the hills behind San Carlos on Nov. 4, 1769, the feast day of St. Charles.

Fire Calls Increase, Loss Is Held Down

Annual report of the Novato Fire District shows the number of fire calls has increased with growth of population, losses due to fire have been held down by by the district.

The report has been submitted to the district board for acceptance at its next meeting on April 13.

In 1960 the district had 339 fire calls with total loss of $46,430. Last year when it had 546 fire calls, with total loss of $51,854. Greatest loss in the district was in 1961 when it had a loss of $141,340.

In the past year, the district received lower fire insurance ratings from the Pacific Fire Underwriters. The area in the district previously in the nine class was lowered to the eight and that portion in the district with a five was lowered to a four classification.

The district accepted a $52,549 fire alarm system last year. This brings the total assets of the district in land, stations and equipment up to $337,433.81.

The district had two deaths caused from fire last year. On Jan. 10, James A. Dawson of 791 Story Book Court and on Oct. 27, Mrs. Margaret Shea of 45 Manzanita lost their lives in fires.

About 95 acres were burned in grass fires. This is about the average for the last 10 years.

Fires blamed on cigarettes were up to 49 last year from 37 the year before. However, the fires caused by children playing with matches dropped to 32 last year from 58 the year before.

The number of fire permits has dropped consistently with the number of new houses constructed in the past few years. Two years ago, the district issued 918 fire permits, but only 644 last year.

Marijuana Charge Brings Trial Date

Paul Edward Deal, 25, of 330 Hyacinth Way, Terra Linda, was scheduled for jury trial, Aug. 29, in Marin Superior Court Tuesday on a charge of possession of marijuana March 12.

Deal and Robert Gordon Brien, 18, of Chico, were arrested by Novato police for investigation of possessing marijuana. Brien, charged with sale of the weed, is scheduled to plead in Marin Municipal Court April 15.

Striking Grape Pickers Hopeful In Schenley Pact

LODI (UPI) — Striking grape pickers neared the dramatic conclusion of the 300-mile protest march today, hopeful that their long-awaited agreement with Schenley Industries, Inc., marked a turning point in the unionization of farm workers.

Schenley was the first of 33 struck grape producers in the agriculturally rich Delano, Calif., area to settle with the National Farm Workers Assn. (NFWA) over the representation of pickers. The agreement was announced yesterday in Los Angeles.

Another picketed firm, the vast Di Giogrio Corp., was expected to follow Schenley's lead. Officials of the big fruit-packing firm called a news conference in San Francisco where plans will be disclosed to "take steps which will go a long way towards ending the problems" of farm labor.

The Rev. James Drake, coordinator of a nationwide boycott of Schenley products, told a rally in nearby Thornton last night that a similar boycott would be started against Di Giorgio products — some under the label of S and W Foods — unless the firm agreed to bargain with the NFWA.

The 250 marchers hoped to arrive in Sacramento Easter and meet with Gov. Edmund G. Brown to air their grievances over farm workers' pay and working conditions. The governor has said he would be in Palm Springs.

The NFWA nd the Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, launched the strike against the Delano grape producers in September.

Both labor groups were adamant foes of the importation of workers from Mexico last year to help in California's harvest.

Mandatory Auto Safety Legislation Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson predicted today the Senate Commerce Committee which he heads will call for mandatory safety standards for cars.

Magnuson told newsmen this seemed to be the feeling of a majority of the members of the committee, which concluded hearings yesterday on President Johnson's highway safety legislation.

The administration bill would authorize, but not require, the secretary of commerce to set motor vehicle safety standards after two years.

Magnuson said he thought the committee would amend the bill to direct that standards be issued and also to require the adoption of interim standards pending further research and testing.

John S. Bugas, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., urged Tuesday in testifying for the industry that it be given a chance to show what it could do before any federal standards are imposed.

Ford Motor Co. vice president John S. Bugas appealed for legislation granting immunity from antitrust prosecution to the manufacturers for sharing information and developments in the safety field.

But the head of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, Asst. Atty. Gen. Donald F. Turner, said in a letter to Magnuson yesterday that the general argument advanced for this lacks merit.

He noted also that Bugas, in expressing the industry's concern about antitrust action if it engaged in joint safety efforts, had testified it is now under antitrust investigation with respect to exhaust emission devices.

Turner said the charges being investigated by the antitrust division are "of cooperative efforts to suppress, not to promote, the utilization of auto emission devices."

New Booklet To Attract Educators

The Marin County Schools office has published a 14-page booklet extolling the virtues of Marin County and its schools, to recruit teachers into the county.

Consisting mainly of photos, the booklet depicts six scenic scenes, and three involving schools, one of them a playground scene.

"You will like living and teaching in Marin," according to the booklet entitled "Opportunities in Education in Marin County."

Schools in Marin employ about 2,000 certificated school personnel, the booklet said. "During the coming year, positions will be available at most levels, subjects and areas in the county."

There are photos of San Francisco from Sausalito, the Muir Woods redwoods, Mount Tamalpais, a sailboat on San Francisco Bay, and an aerial view of San Rafael.

Eggs Splatter Houses

Lewis Workman and Arthur Luccetti of 77 and 81 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, complained to police Tuesday night that someone threw eggs at the fronts of their houses. They said they ran outside in time to see a red car drive off.

An Open Discussion On Taxes

By John Finn III

Taxes presently are one of our most pressing and urgent problems and all indications point to them being a continuing problem.

No man can do all things for all people. However, because of my training and my profession as a public accountant, I believe that the greatest skill and understanding that I can bring to the City Council will be in the field of taxation and money management that are interwoven with budgets and money receipts and expenditures that vitally affect your tax dollars and hence your pocketbooks.

Local sales taxes provide a whopping big per cent of city income. Therefore, local business men must be encouraged to put their best foot forward.

Local sales taxes are projected to produce an estimated 13% of the city's income, based on sales tax figures for the year, thus far. In 1963-64 the local sales taxes produced 21.6% of the city's income. Since the sales taxes represent the second largest item of income to Mill Valley, I feel that it is necessary to provide an aggressive business community with the necessary and proper leadership to accept the challenge to improve the business, and thereby increase our sales tax revenue.

Extreme caution in the management of your tax dollars is of prime concern to every property owner in Mill Valley. During the past two years the cost to the taxpayer of running the City of Mill Valley has increased more than $225,000. This increase is from property taxes only, the taxes that every tax payer must pay. There is bound to be an increase in taxes in order for the City to raise salary standards and other necessary expenses to maintain an efficient city government. However, there have been considerable unnecessary expenditures, for example, a contingency fund amounting to $30,000. Prior to the past two years, this item has not appeared on the budget. This practice should be terminated. As a practicing public accountant I promise to scrutinize all expenditures to protect the interest of the taxpayer.

To make a better climate for you and me in Mill Valley is the subject of my discussion with you tomorrow.

State Drive Puts Spotlight On Work-Furlough Ideas

The California Council on Crime and Delinquency, consisting of 50 statewide civic leaders, today announced the start of a concentrated public education effort on behalf of the work-furlough program for county jail inmates.

Marin County adopted this program nine years ago, but less than one-fourth of the counties of California are using the program today, according to the council.

Judge Richard M. Sims meted out the first work-furlough sentence in Marin County in June, 1957. Sims, now a judge in the District Court of Appeals, San Francisco, was then a judge in Marin Municipal Court.

The sentence allowed the defendant, convicted on charges of non-support, to work at his regular job 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day, while serving his jail sentence of 30 days. The defendant left the jail each morning to go to work, and returned to jail immediately after work.

The defendant paid the county for his room and board in jail, and supported his family while in jail. His check went directly to the district attorney's office, which sent part to the welfare department for reimbursement for past assistance given to the defendant's family, sent part to his family, and kept the rest in trust for him.

In December, 1957, the Marin County Board of Supervisors approved the plan as a regular program for selected county jail prisoners, and it is still in effect.

The work-furlough program saved county taxpayers $10,778.44 during its first year in operation, according to a May, 1959, report by the county probation office. The amount included support money prisoners provided to their families, which would otherwise have come out of the county welfare fund, money paid by the prisoners for their daily upkeep at the jail, and payments by prisoners on their fines.

There are a few cases on record of work-furlough prisoners escaping or getting into further trouble instead of going to their jobs. In April, 1960, two work-furlough prisoners were arrested after a high-speed chase on a stolen motorcycle, while they were supposed to have been at work. In June, 1964, three work-furlough prisoners escaped, but all three were back in jail within a week.

In September, 1965, the county's program was changed to let the county probation office take over control of the program from judges. Under the changed program, the probation officers selected the prisoners for the program.

The council's newly inaugurated program of public education on behalf of the program is based, according to council spokesman Joe E. Levitt, on the council's view of the program as "an effective means of preserving marriages, keeping families intact, preventing juvenile deliquency, and preserving professional careers."

Levitt noted that this education program is deliberately timed to coincide with the April 15 deadline for paying state and federal taxes, on the premise that the taxpayer would now be especially interested in any tax-saving program.

Good Weather Helps Marinites Find Work

Fair weather in Marin County during March was responsible for a sharp increase in jobs and a drop in unemployment insurance payments, according to the state Department of Employment.

Job placements by the department rose from 384 in February to 530 last month and the number of benefit payments fell from 1,345 to 1,220.

Candidates Quizzed

Approximately 30 Larkspur residents met at Greenbrae School Tuesday night to listen to and ask questions of all six candidates for two seats on the Larkspur City Council. The candidates are incumbent Mayor Neil R. Brixton, Colin K. White, William Fleckles, Alfred Malvino, Daniel Allen and Jane Epidendio.

Terra Linda District Endorses Park Bonds

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District last night unanimously endorsed the $4.3 million county parks bond issue that will be on the June 7 ballot.

The action came after County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker spoke on the measure and answered questions.

The board also agreed that most of the $100,000 the district would receive if the bonds are approved would go toward development of Oleander Park, reported Jack Brandon, board chairman.

Directors scheduled a candidates' night for 8 p.m., May 11, for all candidates up to and including those for the house of representatives. The bond proposal will also be discussed, Brandon said.

The Terra Linda Recreation and Park District board also:

1. Agreed to open the swimming pool for weekend use May 14 and go on the daily schedule June 17. The schedule will be on the agenda of the April 20 meeting, however, in case citizens want changes.

2. Agreed to meet with county officials to investigate possibility of using the county data processing system for district bookkeeping.

3. Adopted a resolution ruling that no children over 10 years of age will be allowed on tiny tot equipment. Brandon reported that teen-agers have been playing on the equipment, causing some damage.

4. Set tomorrow as deadline on applications for recreation director, and scheduled interviews of the top four applicants for April 15.

Girl Takes LSD, Has Convulsions

NEW YORK (UPI) — Doctors kept a close watch today over a 3-year-old girl who was thrown into hysterical convulsions after eating a cube of sugar saturated with the mind-wandering drug LSD.

Her teen-aged uncle, Paul Franlin, was arrested after telling police he bought the drug-soaked cube on a Greenwich Village street for $5.

Larkspur Councilman Says He's Installed Illegal Ramp

A letter from Larkspur Street Supt. Warren Mistron on the hazards of makeshift ramps over curbs to driveways brought an embarrassed admission, 45 minutes of deliberation, but no action at the Larkspur City Council meeting last night.

Mistron reported that, in Hillview Gardens and Greenbrae, residents have taken to saving the undersides of their cars by placing wooden and steel ramps over the gutter, from street to curb.

These ramps interfere with the streetsweeper, plug gutters, float down the streets during storms, and could cause an accident, Mistron reported.

Mayor Neil R. Brixon reported he had noticed the increase of these ramps in Hillview Gardens and said he thought the council should inform residents they are illegal without an encroachment permit granted by the planning commission.

At this point, Councilman Robert J. Smith, who lives in that subdivision, sheeplishly admitted that, after banging his car on the curbs for years, "I finally put one of these ramps in three weeks ago. It certainly makes for more relaxed driving when going in and out of the driveway.

Finally, over the protest of Mayor Brixon, councilmen decided to table the matter with an eye toward bringing it up for study later.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

1. Heard from Police Chief Howard Clark that the police force had been given "a clean bill of health" by the Federal Bureau of Investigation after that bureau investigated a charge of police brutality made by John H. McGoran after he was placed under citizen's arrest at the Confucious bar last Oct. 17. McGoran has also asked the city for $5,000 damages because of the arrest.

2. Adopted, by 4-1 vote, an ordinance rezoning properties along Corte Madera Creek in the Bon Air subdivision. In effect, the rezoning moves an administrative and professional zone back from creekside and substitutes multiple family zoning. Smith voted no, arguing it should be held up until the city sees how much of the land will be taken by the Corte Madera Creek flood control project.

3. Agreed to pay $7,500 as the city's share of channelization of Arroyo Holan Creek and creation of a silting basin there. Property owners Joann Niven and Harry Riede, on either side of the creek, will each contribute $4,000 for the project.

4. Requested that the planning commission study a proposal to require small barriers at the doors of garages with steep driveways, to prevent runaway cars.

5. Introduced a nuisance abatement ordinance which would allow the city to abate any dilapidated building when no action is taken by the property owner.

6. Renewed a work-study contract with College of Marin.

7. Agreed to ask the state department of finance to take a census estimate of the city at a cost of $190. Officially, the city's population now stands at 7,735.

8. Accepted, with reluctance, the resignations of the library board chairman Mrs. Phillip Haly and park and recreation commissioner Julio Boeri.

9. Adjourned to April 19 to canvass the election returns and seat a new council.

Marinite Due To Enter Plea

Bern Stambler, of 320 Richardson Drive, Strawberry, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of grand theft and is to plead to the charge April 18.

Stambler is charged with selling about $17,000 worth of eyeglass frames acquired from a business associate, David Goldberg of New York, between July, 1964, and July of 1965, but kept the funds.

According to Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney, who signed the complaint, Goldberg apparently supplied the frames, and Stambler was to market them on the west coast.

SITTING AT THE EDGE of the Tiburon Peninsula Club's new 20-yard swimming pool while putting the finishing touches on the Easter decorations to be used for the opening of the club's facilities on Saturday are Mrs. Ronald Rouda, Mrs. Richard Bernstein and Mrs. Robert Morehead. Mrs. Rouda and Mrs. Morehead are co-chairmen.

Expanded Facilities At Club In Tiburon To Open Saturday

Tiburon Peninsula Club's expanded facilities will be opened with a day of festivities Saturday. Beginning at 10 a.m. with an Easter egg hunt for children 10 and under, it will conclude with a supper dance at 8:30 p.m.

Cause of all the celebration is the completion of four new tennis courts, a new 20 yard, four lane swimming pool, landscaping, additional parking areas, a fresh paint job for the remodeled clubhouse and outdoor lighting. The $200,000 additions to the club's plant will be ushered in with official ribbon cutting ceremonies at 1 p.m. Tiburon Mayor Gordon Strawbridge, Belvedere Mayor Merritt Ruddock, Tiburon Chamber of Commerce president William Howell and Tiburon Peninsula Club president, Joseph Royer will participate.

SPECIAL GUESTS include Henry Bolcom of the Belvedere Tennis Club, local civic officials and clergymen. Past presidents of the club, organized in 1948, who have been invited to attend include George Bitter, Edwin Rogers, Dr. Raymund Millzner, Russell Keil, Fred Zimmerman, Lloyd M. Stark, Robert Wineman, Thomas Price, Frank V. Smith, J. Donald McCune and George McKegney.

Alan Cundall, publicity chairman, is packing a "fun-filled time capsule" which will be buried near the new tennis courts, to be opened in the year 2016 "illustrating 1966 recreational activities."

While the youngsters are looking for Easter eggs in the morning, fizzes will be served to members and guests in the trophy room. At 11:30 a.m. the north lawn will be the scene of a huge family picnic.

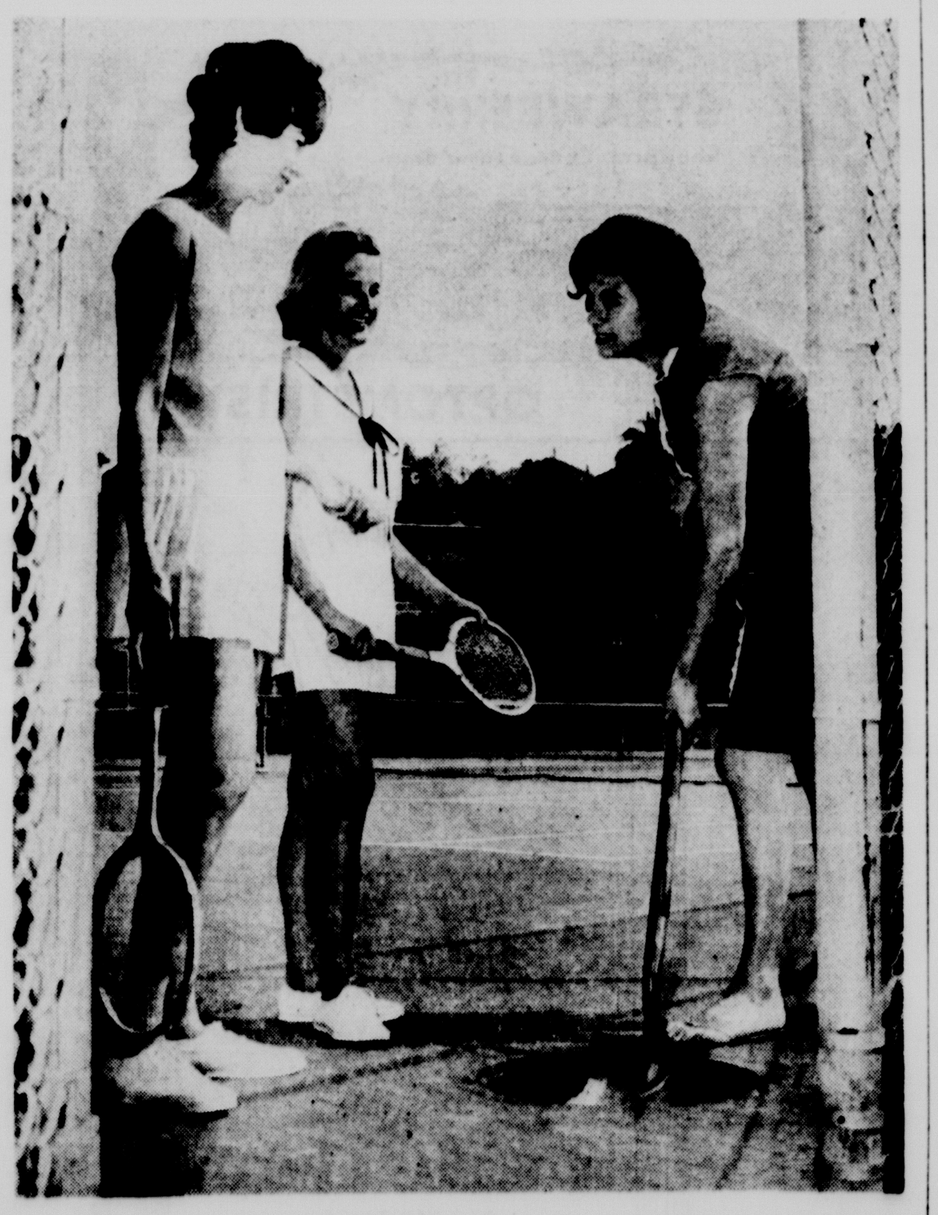
At 2 p.m. the new courts will be initiated by nationally ranked tennis players Whitney Reed and Cliff Mayne playing an exhibition match. At the same time a judo exhibition by the Marin School of Self Defense will take place. At 2:30 p.m. Earl Turro will give a magic show on the front lawn.

THE ANN CURTIS Synchronized Swimmers will perform at 3:30 p.m. and Morley Shapiro will present a diving exhibition.

The "adults only" evening action begins at 7 p.m. with cocktails at the club and will continue with the supper dance.

The Easter brunch from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. will round out the busy weekend.

Mrs. Robert D. Morehead and Mrs. Ronald Rouda are co-chairmen, with Mrs. Floyd White, children's activities chairman.



WHILE tennis players Mesdames Vernon Girtler and Richard Garrick look on in surprise, Mrs. Robert Morehead digs a hole near the Tiburon Peninsula Club's four new tennis courts where a "fun-filled time capsule" to be opened in 50 years will be buried during dedication ceremonies at 1 p.m. Saturday.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Will Wife's Acquaintance Use Key To Get Back Into Her Life?

DEAR HELEN:

I'm a good combination: sweet, pure, innocent, and I know all the answers, or at least I know all the questions so I can field the answers. So I thought!

Have never come close to being untrue to my husband but I sometimes wonder how it would be.

Well, I'm still SPI, but if my husband finds out about the key he may not believe me, and it's too late to joke about it now—he'd think I was lying through fear of being found out.

I went to a P-TA convention—you see, that's how pure I am. I got there a day early to do some shopping, and that night at the hotel I sat at a table with a fascinating man. We each showed the other photos of our children, and, really, it was a very talkative evening, nothing more. Actually, we talked for four hours — and I'll be honest, there was a gleam in his eye when he walked me to my room. (His was on the same floor.) We said good-bye!

I had trouble with the key in my lock, and he came back ever so promptly to help me. He got the door open and in the embarrassment of explaining that I really meant good-bye, I didn't get my key back. He must have put it in his pocket—but I didn't even realize it was gone until the next morning.

I never saw him again. He said he was checking out early. But somewhere a man who made me fleetingly wish I was not SPI is walking around with my key in his pocket (unless his wife has found it, which would be worse).

In a kidding way I told my very wonderful husband about the dinner, but not the key, and I know I should have because he trusts me. But if he heard about it now — well, even his trust has its limits.

I worry. Will this man (who knows where I live) use the key to get back into my life? Will my husband find out, and can I make him believe a man who opens a woman's hotel door for her doesn't always walk in? What'll I do, Helen?

MRS. X.

DEAR MRS. X:

(Will innocence prevail? Will Mrs. X. lose all? Will . . . .)

You forgot the one question that probably rates a "yes." Did this man (who is no more anxious to risk his marriage than you are) mail the key back to the hotel the moment he found it — and in a no-return-addressed envelope? You darn betcha he did, so stop worrying . . . but never forget about your mild flirtation. Good little gals need a few memories like these to make them realize it's choice, not lack of opportunity, that keeps them "SPI".

H.

DEAR HELEN:

What about wearing hats at luncheons? Emily says YES, but the new hair-styles shout no. Which?

HATLESS WESTERNER

DEAR HATLESS:

Let's put it this way: If you don't wear a hat to a luncheon, out West, you'll be in style with at least 50 per cent of the guests. (And the other 50 per cent? Well, perhaps they saved $5 on a new hair-do.) H.

DEAR HELEN:

Several years ago you and other readers pooh-poohed the repairman who said ALL housewives were on the make, and watch out if they offer you coffee. I went along with that until I got a job repairing TV sets. This dame called me back the second time and when I got there she was in "something comfortable," and she had champagne and fancy crackers on the table. What do you say to that, Helen? T-VETO

DEAR T:

Maybe she wanted to be sure you got good reception. H.

Sweet Adelines Take Honor In Palo Alto Competition

Marin Chapter of Sweet Adelines placed third in the stiffest competition since the Sweet Adelines were incorporated in 1947. Once yearly the national organization of barbershop singers hold a regional convention competition for the best chorus in each region. Nineteen choruses in Region 12, which includes Idaho, Utah, Hawaii, and California held their annual competition convention last Friday through Sunday, at the Cabana in Palo Alto. The convention was hostessed by the Mission Valley Chapter which was the winner of the competition held last year.

Marin chapter, just a few points behind Oakland, placed third with Utah's "Bountiful Chapter" taking first place honors.

Marin Sweet Adelines scored just one point below that of the winning chorus in the "sound" category. Point system is used for the competition and the different categories graded are: sound, precision, music and showmanship. There was only a 15 point difference between the top three contestants.

Marin Chapter's costumes, following the theme of their latest show, was that of the flapper era. A variety of colors were used and they sang "Back In The Roaring Twenties," and "There'll Be No New Tunes On This Old Piano." Song arrangements and direction of the Marin chorus were both by Steve Carrick, the Marin chorus director.

Three Cars Hit Poles, 10 Persons To Hospital

Three accidents involving automobiles hitting utility poles on Marin highways yesterday sent 10 person to hospitals for treatment.

Five were injured, none seriously, in one of them.

Juanda M. Power, 16, of 574 Heather Way, Terra Linda, was the driver, the California Highway Patrol reported. Her car sideswiped a pole on Shoreline Highway near Olema at 1:40 p.m. and overturned.

Treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts and bruises were the driver; her brother, Steven, 10, and sister, Terri, 8; Jeffery Lund, 13, and his sister, Susan, 8, of 559 Heather Way, Terra Linda. Another passenger, Thomas May, 19, of 472 San Jose Avenue, Hamilton Air Force Base, escaped unhurt.

Two Novato youths were injured when the car in which they were passengers hit a mail box and a utility pole on Olive Street near Atherton Avenue, Novato.

A car driven by Richard A. Blackman, 20, of San Diego, left the road on a curve, reported the highway patrol. Blackman, unhurt, was cited for driving on the wrong side of the read. Treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital were John F. Pate, 18, of 1457 Cambridge Street, for facial cuts, and Paul Tara, 15, of 1418 Cambridge Street, for a sprained back.

Two Sebastopol women were injured yesterday afternoon when their northbound car slid sideways into a utility pole on Highway 101 near San Marin Drive, Novato.

The driver, Carla Suzanne Fitzjarrell, 18, was reported in good condition today in Novato General Hospital with a broken pelvis. Her passenger, Evelynne Jean Menke, 19, who was thrown from the car, was in good condition with head cuts.

Phone Book Distributed Despite Suit

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. began distribution today of the 1966 Marin County telephone directory, despite the threat of an injunction to prevent it.

Robert Conway, a San Anselmo plumbing contractor, filed a suit in Marin Superior Court seeking injunctions against the publishing of the 650-page book following the alleged exclusion of Conway's quarter-page ad from the yellow pages.

Troy Lewis, the company's Northern Marin manager, said the distribution began as scheduled, however.

A hearing has been set before Judge Harold J. Haley for 2 p.m. next Wednesday for PT&T to show cause why the injunction should not be issued.

But, according to the telephone company's timetable, the hearing will come two days too late.

All the 102,900 copies of the 1966 phone book, weighing 152 tons, are expected to be in the hands of customers by Monday.

The new directory contains 59,040 alphabetical listings, 2,095 more than last year. In addition to the white pages, there is a 24-page green introduction to the 456 yellow pages.

Depicted on the cover this year is Octagon House, built in the early 1860's to serve as the original pump house for the James Ross estate. It is now the administration building for the Marin Art and Garden Center.

The Boss Not Sure What His Help Does?

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — The director of the University of Michigan's Bureau of Industrial Relations thinks the typical business manager is sometimes vague about what his subordinates are doing or are supposed to do.

Dr. George S. Ordione said there's a surprising discrepancy when two lists of duties are compared: the boss's list of what his subordinate does and the subordinate's list.

Patrick Against Business Taxes

SAN DIEGO (AP) — William Penn Patrick, Republican candidate for governor, said last night he likes neither taxes nor Dr. Gaylord Parkinson, the GOP state chairman.

Patrick, speaking to the San Diego Young Republicans, said he would favor abolishment of the state corporate income tax and the state inventory tax as hindrances to business expansion.

He also said he "agrees in principle" with the Liberty amendment, which would abolish federal income taxes. But he said there may be trouble implementing the Liberty amendment.

Musical Praise For Stalin Deleted

MOSCOW (AP) — The belated premiere of Sergei Prokofieff's cantata honoring the October Revolution omitted two movements praising Stalin, musical sources reported today.

The cantata "For the 20th Anniversary of the October Revolution" was written in 1937 but didn't get its first performance in Moscow until Tuesday night, at a program honoring the 75th anniversary of the composer's birth.

Plumbers Still Out On Strike

Plumbing contractors in Marin and three other Northern California counties were still trying today to persuade union plumbers to go back to work before negotiating over new work contracts.

Officials of the contractors and the Plumbers Union yesterday agreed to meet in a few days. Meanwhile, plumbers remained on strike against about 35 independent contractors in Marin, San Francisco, Sonoma and Mendocino counties.

The plumbers have threatened to spread the strike unless they were granted an immediate 50 cent hourly pay increase and fringe benefits worth $7.64½ an hour.

Sausalito Asks Prezoning In Wolfback Ridge Area

Sausalito planning commissioners last night recommended "prezoning" changes of county land on Wolfback Ridge, suggesting that two parcels of land above Highway 101 near the southern edge of the city be rezoned from single family residential at 6,000 square feet per unit to the same category at 20,000 square feet per unit, the zoning to apply if the land were annexed to the city.

The commission suggested that county land on Waldo Point, now zoned to permit apartments, remain the same. This area is the hill upon which are built the Ebbtide Apartments, in the city limits, and Eden Roc apartments, in the county.

Public hearing on the proposed prezoning of areas adjacent to Sausalito corporate limits was set for May 4 at 8 p.m. at city hall, reported Robert L. Nissen, acting chairman.

Commissioners approved a conditional use permit to allow Christ Episcopal Church at Santa Rosa and San Carlos Avenues to replace a small existing building with a new, smaller structure. Request for conditional use permit from Sausalito community TV system to rebuild and alter an existing television tower at Highway 101 and Currey Lane was continued to May 4 for further study.

The commission will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. a week from today, to discuss planning of the central waterfront area with use of federal funds.

Injured Recruit Fights For Life

But Robert F. Pierce, 23, Onida, S.D., remains on the critical list.

Pierce was injured during training at the San Diego Marine Training Camp and was hospitalized March 24. He later was transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital here.

Brickyard Park Voted Off-Limits For All Autos

The Strawberry Recreation District board last night voted to close Brickyard Park on Seminary Avenue to car traffic.

The seven-acre park will be closed to cars as soon as a chain and posts can be installed across the park's driveway, said Mrs. Patricia M. Gowen, secretary. The board acted to prevent littering of the park fishing area by picnickers.

The Strawberry Recreation District board also:

1. Asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors "to take remedial action to eliminate pedestrian hazards" at the intersections of Tiburon Boulevard and Strawberry Drive (Strawberry School corner) and Belvedere Drive and Reed Boulevard. Eight-year-old Robert Carl Scholz was killed by a car at the Strawberry School intersection March 21.

2. Set April 11-15 as cleanup week for residents in the district.

State Approves Street Projects

The City of Mill Valley received verbal approval of three street improvement projects yesterday from the State Division of Highways.

Approval was confirmed to City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, City Engineer Stanley M. Bala and City Planning Dorector Harvey E. Bragdon, who made a trip to Sacramento yesterday to check on the three projects.

Projects are the resurfacing of Blithedale Avenue from Park School to Camino Alto; extension of Sycamore Avenue from Camino Alto to the city's small craft harbor to two lines in stage one; and rebuilding East Blithedale from Camino Alto to Highway 101, also to two lanes (to be four lanes eventually.)

All three are to be paid for from state gasoline funds. Balmer explained. The resurfacing job is expected to be accomplished in May, Sycamore to start in June, and the Blithedale improvement from Camino Alto to Highway 101 started in September.

Boy Bitten By Mouse In Mill Valley

Six-year-old David Jampolsky of Mill Valley was nursing a sore arm and a hurt finger today, and Marin County Health Department officials were pondering whether he needs rabies shots for a field mouse bite.

David and his brother, Michael, 8, were flying kites yesterday afternoon in the Bay View Heights hills when they came upon the mouse, cornered by a golden retriever. When David reached for the mouse, it dog snatched it and ran away with it.

Michael finally killed it. The bit him and hung on.

"We spent all afternoon following that dog hoping he would lead us to the mouse," said the boys' mother, Mrs. Arthur Jampolsky of 7 Sky Road.

Meanwhile, David is nursing his arm made sore from a tetanus shot.

Mellon added that a side door to his house was not locked, according to police. There was no sign of forced entry.

Meyerson Said In Running For Top Post

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Martin Meyerson, 43, dean and former acting chancellor at the University of California at Berkeley, is reported to be the prime candidate among three being considered for the presidency of the State University at Buffalo.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, president of UB, will retire Aug. 31, having reached the mandatory retirement age of 65 last Oct. 24. He has headed the university since 1954.

Trustees of the state university system, of which UB is a part, narrowed the candidates to three from an original list of 130. The trustees meet next on April 15 at Stony Brook, Long Island.

Russian Jet Crashes In West Berlin River

BERLIN (AP) — Mutilated bodies were sighted today in the sunken fuselage of a Soviet jet fighter that crashed in the Havel River of West Berlin, a spokesman for the West Berlin government reported.

The Russians aid the two-man crew perished when the plane crashed yesterday afternoon. A British spokesman at the scene in the British sector reported earlier that diver found no bodies.

Press spokesman Peter Herz made the announcement of the finding of pieces of bodies, and West Berlin police confirmed this.

Thousands of West Berliners flocked to the site of the crash.

People lined the river's banks and picknicked along nearby wooded trails. The water around the crash scene was reserved for the barges that were working to bring up the plane.

More than a dozen uniformed Russian officers and enlisted men were at the site.

The official news agency Tass reported earlier that the pilot, Capt. Boris Kapustin, and his gave their lives to insure that the plane went down in an uninhabited spot.

Later the East German news agency ADN said that Tass had requested that ADN withdraw its version of the Tass story. Later Tass advised ADN to release the story. No reason was given for the change in signals.

The sonic booms of other Soviet planes continued to be heard overhead despite a demand by the U.S.., British and French commandants for Soviet authorities to end "reckless flights" over the city.

A U.S. spokesman confirmed that U.S. Army vehicles and "a small number of fully equipped personnel" were posted at seven East-West border crossing points. Informed sources speculated that they were there to block any Soviet attempt to bring salvage equipment into West Berlin.

The early Tass report did not identify the type of plane. Some Western experts guessed that it was a MIG-17 but the British spokesman said definite identification cannot be made until the craft is raised.

Unruh Beaten On Slum Area School Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved a $260 million school bond bill and sided with Gov. Brown in a dispute with Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh over aid to slum districts.

Unruh, D-Inglewood, had pushed through an amendment to the bill earmarking $20 million of the funds for new and reconstructed school buildings in Los Angeles, San Diego, Long Beach, Oakland and San Francisco. Unruh's amendment was removed by the Senate.

Assembly Speaker pro tem Carlos Bee, D-Hayward, is sponsoring the governor's original program, which would leave the $20 million for portable classrooms which could be used next fall in the five major cities plus Fresno, Bakersfield, Vallejo and Stockton.

"Building permanent schools in slum areas really perpetuates slums," Sen. J. Eugene McAteer commented today. He authored a portable classroom bill appropriating the $20 million.

The committee approved the bill as Bee had originally introduced it. "I'm sure this will have to go to a joint house conference committee," Bee said, referring to Assembly support of Unruh's program.

Goldman's 18 - year - old son was forced to leave his home before dawn on March 28th by a husky middle-aged man who demanded $25,000 ransom.

MYSTERY IN MARINES

Viet War Victim Used Ex-Neighbor's Name

CANTON, Mass. (UPI) — Richard J. Preskenis read his name in the obituary column this week.

"The Department of Defense had me listed as killed in action in Viet Nam," Preskenis said today.

The stranger than fiction tale began to unwind this week when the Defense Department included among the servicemen killed in Viet Nam: "Richard J. Preskenis of Livermore Falls, Maine."

When officials tried to inform the nearest of kin in Livermore Falls, they found out no one knew Preskenis. So they went to the second nearest of kin —a sister Mrs. Paul Collins of Brockton, Mass.

Authorities said she told them that the dead man wasn't Preskenis. Instead, it was William F. Joyce, 25, of Stoughton, Mass.

(In Washington, a Marine Corps spokesman confirmed that Joyce had enlisted under the name of Preskenis. He said the dead man had done this "for reasons unknown."

(The spokesman said the Marines had discovered the mixup when they contacted Mrs. Collins, who was Joyce's sister.

Officials said Joyce enlisted in the Marines in April 1963 under the alias of Preskenis. They believed he did this because he feared he may have been kept out of service. He maintained the alias throughout.

Fellow servicemen of Co. C, 1st Battalion of the 7th Marines knew him as Preskenis right up to the final moment when he was killed at Quan Lai.

Preskenis said he was acquainted with Joyce when they both lived in the same neighborhood in Stoughton and went to the same high school. But they never were close friends.

Preskenis, who now lives in Canton, said he became suspicious of something "four months ago and began an investigation of the whole matter."

Mrs. Preskenis said they had often wondered why her husband hadn't been drafted. His twin brother Richard went into the Air Force in 1961 and got out last year.

Papamas New Symbol Of Togetherness?

NEW YORK (UPI) —Matching sets of family pajamas are the newest expression of family togetherness, according to reports reaching Meinhard-Commercial Corp., a leading factoring and financing firm.

The new fashion is selling well in various styles and patterns, the C.I.T. Financial Corp. subsidiary reported, and in some cases the idea has even been extended to a matching baby diaper and matching dog blanket.

Dixie College Demonstrations Come To End

LORMAN, Miss. (AP) — The Negro against Negro civil rights dispute at Alcorn A&M College settled into pre-Easter calm today after three days and nights of stormy protests.

The highway patrol, which guarded the campus home of Alcorn President J. D. Boyd with 50 troopers during a demonstration last night, reduced its force to two cruising cars.

No classes were scheduled Friday and students prepared for Easter trips home.

Boyd, a Negro, says Negro leader Charles Evers is responsible for the disorders. Evers has said Boyd should be removed from his post for suspending students and firing faculty members involved in civil rights activity.

East Bay Suspect Admits Taking Typewriter, Auto

Robert E. Brownlee, 18, of Richmond, was charged yesterday with possession of a typewriter taken from a ransacked San Rafael office and with theft of a car which had been parked in front of the office.

He was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court and released on his own recognizance, to appear Wednesday for plea.

San Rafael police said the youth admitted taking the typewriter and the car, but said he was on his way to return the vehicle when he was picked up by Richmond police.

They reported the youth's mother usually cleans the office of Fair Isaac, Inc., a management consulting firm at 1400 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, but that he had done the job Saturday night, using her key.

Inside, police said, Brownlee found the key to the car. He told them he pushed open a bathroom screen to make it appear there had been a forced entry, and then took the typewriter and some cash, according to his admission.

The car was reported missing Monday by Carol V. Veris of 931 Vernal Avenue, Mill Valley. At the same time the office was found ransacked, police said.

Bad Check Results In Second Sentence

An inmate of California Medical Facility at Vacaville, Michael LeRoy Fox, 30, was sentenced to one to 14 years in prison Tuesday in Marin Superior Court following his guilty plea to possession of a worthless check with intent to defraud Montgomery Ward and Co. of Corte Madera.

Judge Harold J. Haley made the sentence concurrent with one Fox is already serving. He had a $139.78 bad check on Nov. 20 that he intended to cash.

Scientists Hold Up Fine In Lunar Voyage Mockup

DOWNEY (AP) — On their ninth day crammed in a 6x9-foot capsule hung in a lethal, space-like vacuum, three men in longjohns are hungry "for the things you might expect," but confident:

1. They'll finish their 14-day simulated flight to the moon and back in good shape.

2. They could endure their spacecraft environment four weeks without strain.

3. Fear of spacecraft puncture by micrometeorites need not keep astronauts from relaxing in their underwear on long trips—there's plenty of time to get back into spacesuits.

The three — Richard Erman, 33; John Moyles, 36; and Norman Abell, 37 — entered their mockup Apollo moonship March 29 to test the environmental control system (ECS) designed for U.S. lunar missions later in this decade.

The name of Oroville is a combination of "oro" Spanish for gold, and "ville" French for town. The city was so named because it was in the heart of a gold country.

HAT-TIPPING TO A DOLL

Morrie Batz tips his hat to Barbara Grupp, modern ballet dancer and brand new talent in the annual "Rhubarb Revue" to open April 15, 8:45 p.m. at American Legion Hall, Mill Valley. The show, directed by Laurie Tusup, also plays April 16, 22, 23, 29 and 30, with proceeds to benefit the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club's building fund. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. R. M. Glessner or Mrs. Floyd Beaver.

Albert Park Recreation Center Is Recommended

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended a $221,500 capital improvement program for fiscal 1967, including construction of a recreation center at Albert Park.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said the $150,000 for the recreation center "is quite a large item" and perhaps additional means of financing could be sought.

He suggested the city could use $75,000 of its share of the county parks bond fund, if the $4.3 million bond issue passes June 7.

"Perhaps some service clubs might be interested or federal assistance available," Rodota said.

He said the proposed 12,000 square foot building would cost about $134,000. The remainder of the $150,000 would be needed for engineering, design and furnishings, he said.

Other projects listed in the capital improvement budget were first phase development of Monticello Park, adjacent to Don Timoteo School in Terra Linda, $21,000; second phase development of the Nunes Ranch park site, at the end of De La Guerra Road, $19,500; night lighting system at Victor Jones Park in Glenwood, $1,500; improvement of lighting at Albert Park tennis courts and baseball field, $17,000; improvement of Bret Harte Park, $2,500; joint development of the Don Timoteo School site with Dixie School District, $5,000, and joint development of the Bahia Vista School grounds with San Rafael Elementary School District, $5,000.

The commission also recommended that Rodota be given a pay raise from $900 to $1,050 per month; that Scott Tilden, parks foreman, be raised from $721 to $776, and that the pay scale for gardeners be raised from $433-593 to $512-623 a month.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission also:

1. Was notified that the San Rafael Elks Lodge withdrew its request for the use of Albert Park for a circus July 20-21.

2. Adjourned until April 25 at 6 p.m. at the temporary recreation center, Brooks and Second streets, to review plans for development at the Nunes Ranch park site.

Chairman Arthur W. Fiedler was absent.

Mountain Theater Will Keynote State Art Forum

The Mountain Theater at Mount Tamalpais will be featured in California's first statewide conference on the arts, scheduled for May 21-22 in San Francisco, Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa, announced today.

The conference will be sponsored by the California Arts Commission at St. Francis Hotel. Young, a member of the commission, will speak on "Legislative Leadership in the Arts."

A photograph of the Mountain Theater, courtesy of the Mountain Play Assn., is printed on the cover of the printed program which is being circulated to hundreds of cultural groups throughout the state.

The conference is scheduled to open with a welcoming address by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Watercolor Painting

Richard Yip, California artist and teacher, will supervise a weekend of outdoor watercolor painting in Marin County April 23 and 24.

On the Saturday, the painting location will be Sausalito and on the following day, the group will paint at a farm at Nicasio. Mrs. Arthur W. Ralston, 71 Forrest Terrace, Fairfax, is arranging registrations.

Festival Theater Slates Premiere

The Festival Theater, San An-Coast premier of Lillian Hellselmo, will present the West man's comedy "My Mother, My Father and Me" opening with preview performances on April 22, 23 and 24 and running through June 5. The production will open officially April 29.

Described as a satire dealing with a New York family, the play features many surprises including an Indian reservation, an elaborate multi-level setting and a fashion show with furs supplied by a department store.

A cast of 21, under direction of Betty Fuller, will present the work Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and on Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

Mojave (desert, river and town) is an Arizona tribal Indian name, perhaps meaning "the people who live on the Colorado River near The Needles." The Arizona spelling is "Mohave."

Park Names Are Submitted By Children

How about "Shenanagan Hill" (this is the way the kids spelled it) Park, or Bello Parque, or La Parque de la Famile.

These were among the 50 names suggested by pupils of Santa Margarita School for a five-acre neighborhood park at the end of De La Guerra Road.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission mulled over the list last night, and finally postponed decision until Apr. 25 because Chairman Arthur W. Feidler was absent and they wanted to hear his choice.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said 300 pupils submitted names for the park, and the list had been screened down to 50.

Commissioner Howard L. Simon said he felt that a park should be named after the area in which it is located. "That identifies it," he said.

Commissioners noted that other parks in San Rafael have been named after people.

The commission invited pupils of the school to submit names because Santa Margarita is the school closest to the park.

The Pentagon is the world's largest office building. It covers 34 acres and the total length of its corriders is 17 and one half miles.

Paperwork Increase

NEW YORK (UPI) — Much of the large demand for well-trained office workers has been created by such government agencies as the Internal Revenue Service, which requires companies to fill out an increasing number of forms and tax records, says Remington Office Machines.

Marin Young Democrats Criticize Ky's Regime

Marin Young Democrats have placed themselves on record in opposition to United States' support of the Ky regime in South Viet Nam.

The predominately teen-aged club, meeting Tuesday night at the courthouse, adopted with only one dissenting vote a resolution introduced by Robert Black, which declared:

"It is increasingly clear that the government of Air Marshall Ky has little political support outside the United States, yet the U.S. continues to support his dictatorial regime — the latest in a series of unpopular governments.

"We ask that the U.S. government recognize that governments should and ultimately do rest on the consent of the governed."

The resolution went on to propose that President Johnson support Buddhist demands for an election to be held within three months, bring pressure on the Saigon government to allow international supervision of the election process, and offer in advance both recognition and economic support to the resulting new government.

The Young Democrats will hold a fund raising party at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Kenneth Wade, 107 DuBois Street, San Rafael.

Three Candidates Compete For Bel Marin Keys Seat

Three candidates are in the contest for one seat on the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District board in a district election Tuesday, first polls date since the district was formed in January, 1961.

Voting will be from noon to 8 p.m. at the Bel Marin Keys tennis club at Montego Key and Bel Marin Boulevard.

Candidates are Mrs. Mary C. Maas of 312 Montego Key, a retired school teacher; Donald J. Buck of 156 Montego Key, a retired police officer, and Roger A. Hicks of 40 Montego Key, a sales engineer for Honeywell Corp. in San Francisco.

They are running for the seat held by Mrs. Jack West, the last member of the developer's family to sit on the three member board. She has decided not to seek another term.

Her husband resigned from the board in February and the remaining directors appointed James Zoeller. The developer's son, Jack H. West Jr., resigned last month and was replaced by William C. Hanson.

Hicks, who has been most critical of the developer, declares the board needs an unbiased member, not appointed by the remaining directors.

He promises, if elected, to seek an increase from three to five directors.

Hicks raised criticism over the lack of a deep water channel from the lagoon development to San Pablo Bay. Dredging has since begun on this channel, at West's expense. Hicks argues that dredging is not an issue for the CSD, but that channel maintenance well might be.

Hicks, 50, is a native of England, served in the Royal Air Force in World War II, moved to Canada in 1948 and to the United States in 1955. He studies electrical engineering in college.

He and his wife, Peggy, have a grown daughter.

Buck believes that dredging is an issue in the campaign and he wants the job seen to completion.

"I am in favor of improving relationships between the developer and the people," Buck says.

He and Robert Rice have taken on a project to improve the tract, making sure of good construction.

Buck served on the San Francisco police force for 20 years, prior to moving to Marin a little over a year ago. He is a native of San Francisco and a graduate of Lowell High School.

He and his wife, Maureen, have one grown son.

Mrs. Maas declares that residents of Bel Marin Keys are generally very happy and only a few have complained.

She believes in emphasizing the positive in her campaign, and says that if the CSD board works with the developer, "There is no doubt but what the community will be well on its way toward its potential."

Mrs. Maas is the wife of Victor Maas, a retired telephone rate engineer. She taught kindergarten in San Francisco city schools for several years prior to coming to Marin.

She is a native of the Philippine Islands, where her father worked in founding the college of agriculture at University of Philippines. She is a graduate of University of California at Berkeley. She is the mother of two grown sons, and has four grandchildren.

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1966 — 23

'MURDER VICTIM'—Richard Rangel of Larkspur found this body beside Overhill Road, Mill Valley, last night and routed Police Chief Howard Clark from a Larkspur City Council meeting with report he had discovered a homicide victim. Closer inspection, however, revealed the body to be a dummy.

Richard Rangel, 47, of the Blue Rock Hotel, Larkspur, pounded on the door of the Larkspur City Hall at 8:30 last night to rouse Police Chief Howard Clark from a city council meeting then in progress.

"There's a body of a man lying by Overhill Road in Mill Valley," he told the chief breathlessly.

Moreover, he said, the man's head was under a stack of lumber and there was a bullet or stab wound in the back.

Rangel said he came upon the grisly discovery as he was taking a meandering evening drive over hill roads above Larkspur and Mill Valley.

Clark left the hum-drum of the council meeting and drove with Rangel to the scene of the crime. There, indeed, was the body.

Closer inspection, though, proved that Rangel and Clark were the real victims.

They discovered that the "corpse" consisted of men's trousers, shirt and shoes, stuffed with straw. A red substance had been splashed across the back of the shirt to simulate a wound.

PIPER GIVEN SCROLL FROM CITY FATHERS

Larkspur city Councilmen last night presented former City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper with a framed, glass-encased scroll bearing the resolution passed by the council two months ago which thanked Piper for his nine years of service as the city's first manager.

Piper resigned Feb. 28 to enter business in a building maintenance supply firm.

Truck Driver Said 'Fair' After Fall

William Cannesa, about 60, of 58 Billou Street, San Rafael, apparently suffered a stroke and tumbled from his cement truck at the construction site of the new San Rafael City Hall at 10:25 a.m. today.

He was listed in fair condition at San Rafael General Hospital where he was taken by ambulance. He works as a cement truck driver for Camgros Gravel and Fuel Co., San Rafael.

Novato Candidates Split Over Civic Center Land

Candidates for the Novato City Council are divided on whether the city should buy land for a new civic center or keep city offices where they are, expanding as the need arises.

This division was emphasized today when the six candidates for two positions on next Tuesday's election appeared on the "Marin Sounding Board" on Radio KTIM. The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Former Mayor M. E. (Babe) Silva and Mrs. Betty Machado said they felt that the present civic center adequate for a long time, except that the two houses occupied by the police department should be torn down and a new police building erected there.

Joseph Bonomolo held the present city offices are inadequate and should be moved. Harley McAskill though that the city should move into a civic center and "put the present property back on the tax rolls."

On the question from a listener of whether it might be possible to buy the Frank V. Baccaglio property on South Novato Boulevard and lease it for 10 years until the city needed it, McAskill felt that it could be done.

Wayne Hathaway felt that the city would need it before the 10 years.

The need for improvement of streets was stressed by all six candidates. All agreed that the city had recognized the need.

All candidates praised the police department, but all agreed that it needed a juvenile officer. Bonomolo felt that it should have five more officers.

McAskill was asked what per centage of the city budget went for administration and if he felt city services could be improved without taxes being increased.

With the help of the budget, he answered that 36.6 per cent, or $549,460 of the city budget, went for salaries. He felt that increased services would call for increased taxes.

Mrs. Machado said that she felt that administration costs were too high and that the new council should review the recent increase given the city manager. Silva agreed with her.

Mrs. Greving contended administrators were earning their salaries in the overtime they spent for the city.

"I can see the need for an assistant to the city manager," she said.

One listener asked what they would do for the average citizen who was not getting his money's worth from the high tax dollar.

"I have been campaigning door to door and I have had this same question asked many times," Silva said. He said that he would be more responsive to the citizens if elected.

"I have been getting complaints about not getting any satisfaction when people call city hall," Mrs. Michado agreed.

"The City of Novato gets only six cents out of each tax dollar, so I think the citizens are getting their money's worth," Hathaway said.

All candidates agreed that the special 30-cent park acquisition tax should be cut off this year.

Japanese immigrants first came to San Francisco in the 1890's nearly 50 years after the Chinese.

Clausen Asks Flood Plan Talk

Ross town councilmen have been invited to a meeting with Rep. Donald H. Clausen, R-First District, at the Army Corps of Engineers' district office in San Francisco tomorrow.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen arranged the meeting to review the corps' flood control requirements for Ross. The engineers have said the city must allow a concrete ditch up to Ross Creek or have a flood wall built along the town's southern border.

The meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. at the office at 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco.

Lawmakers Queried On Marin City Funds

County Administrator Alan Bruce yesterday sent telegrams to Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and Rep. Donald H. Clausen asking information about the three-month old application for federal aid in building the Marin City community center.

The application was made to the Department of Housing and Urban Finance, but the San Francisco office has no information on the status of the request, Bruce said.

Tip Nabs Three Youths On Narcotics Charges

Marin County sheriff's officers, acting on a tip from Petaluma police, early today nabbed three youths on suspicion of possession of marijuana, morphine, and other narcotics.

Two of the three were out on bail awaiting trial on other charges.

Booked in county jail were Dennis Allen Thomas, 20, of 322 D Street, San Rafael; Michael Raymond Tauer, 18, of 53 Meadow Drive, Alto, and Marc Torvend Ford, 19, of no known address.

Bail was not immediately set.

Deputy Sheriff K. A. Froberg said he was patrolling in the Santa Venetia area about 3 a.m. when he learned by radio that a car with the three youths was heading south on Highway 101 from Petaluma, and Petaluma police had been notified one occupant was seen with a hypodermic needle.

Minutes later, Froberg halted the car on Highway 101 near Las Gallinas Avenue. He said Thomas, driving, was unable to produce identification. When he attempted to search the vehicle, he said, Ford locked it, but later relented, and unlocked the car.

A search of the vehicle revealed seven cigarettes believed to contain marijuana. Also found in the car and in a later search of the three suspects at county jail were 18 tablets of morphine, valued at about $3 each, a total of about $25 worth of manicured marijuana, methadone hydrochloride worth $30 and a small amount of narcotic paraphernalia.

Ford, formerly of Sausalito and San Francisco, already is facing felony charges in Marin Superior Court of attempted grand theft, receiving stolen property, and using stolen credit cards to obtain four automobile tires. He was free on $1,000 bail.

Thomas was awaiting Superior Court trial on a charge of statutory rape. He is accused of having sexual relations with a 17-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl on four occasions from March 17 to June 11 last year.

Tauer was recently freed from county jail. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail and given three years probation Jan. 11 in Marin Superior Court for burglary of Eat and Run at Kentfield last Sept. 20.

Mount Tamalpais Easter Rite Set

Easter worshipers are expected to hike, as traditionally, to Sidney B. Cushing Memorial Theater near the summit of Mount Tamalpais to attend Easter sunrise services in open area at 6 a.m. most of the participants, however, come by car.

Comdr. Robert Bonner, chaplain at Treasure Island, will be the speaker and Mill Valley's First Baptist Church youth choir will sing. Donald E. Carroll of Corte Madera will be soloist.

The program is being arranged by Rev. John A. MacDonald, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Mill Valley.

Citizens Invited To See Vote Totaling

Citizens are invited to attend tabulation of Tuesday's city council election results in Mill Valley City Council chambers, City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said today.

Polls close at 7 p.m. and Balmer estimated tabulation may begin about 7:30 p.m. The manager, who is also city clerk, said coffee will be served.

Candidate Out Of Bel Marin Ballot

Mrs. Mary C. Maas of 312 Montego Key, Bel Marin Keys, has pulled out of the race for director of the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District.

She explained today that her husband, Victor, had suffered a stroke and she will be devoting all her time to his care. Her name will still appear on the ballot next Tuesday, but she is no longer an active candidate.

(Story on the upcoming Bel Marin Keys election, written before Mrs. Maas's announcement, appears on page 22.)

New Booklet Depicts Scenes Of Sausalito

"Sausalito," a booklet filled with photographs of Sausalito scenes, is now on sale at book stores and magazine stands.

Edited and published by Steve Hall of San Francisco, 10,000 copies were printed last month by Hooper Printing and Lithograph Co., San Francisco. Photography, including the cover page of Vina del Mar Square and Hotel Sausalito, is by Hall and Gordon Emberley.

Sanitation Session

Ross Valley Sanitary District board last night voted to cooperate in a county-financed study of Marin County sewer systems to be made by the engineering firm of Brown and Caldwell.

District Mgr. Ralph C. Noah said the board agreed such a study should give a more accurate picture of furture development. The board set a special meeting April 20 to inspect district sewage treatment plants.

A Report to our 13,000 California Stockholders:

We want to lower the lowest prices on natural gas for California

And we can supply all the gas that's needed for any purpose—including smog-control

When prices for almost everything climb upward, it's good news to hear that some living costs are going down.

We've got that kind of good news for California—and our other customers in Arizona, New Mexico, southern Nevada and west Texas.

At El Paso Natural Gas Company, we have proposed a new project that—if approved—will bring low-cost gas into southern California. These fully regulated new supplies will come from nearby gas fields in the Southwest. They'll be furnished largely through existing pipelines, operating so efficiently that we'll be able to cut the price of every foot of natural gas we now sell to distribution companies in California.

That means a multi-million dollar rate cut, not just for these new supplies but also for all the gas we now furnish to both the northern and southern parts of the state.

This new gas can be used for any purpose that state and Federal regulatory authorities say is in the public interest. If it's needed to help alleviate smog in the Los Angeles area, it can be used for that purpose. Or for anything else that's good for the consuming public.

Since 1947, when El Paso Natural Gas Company first began delivering gas to California, we have been the lowest-price supplier of gas to the state. Today, FPC figures show, the gas distribution companies in Los Angeles and San Francisco (served by El Paso Natural) pay the lowest wholesale gas rates of any of the 14 largest U.S. metropolitan areas.

And we're always looking for ways to make our service better.

If our new project is approved, rates for natural gas will be even lower!

EL PASO NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Through its pipelines, El Paso Natural Gas Company supplies wholesale gas service to retail natural gas distributors in California and other western states.

Today is Thursday April 7, the 97th day of 1966 with 268 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter; the morning star is Venus; the evening star is Jupiter.

English poet William Wordsworth was born on this day in 1770.

On this day in history:

In 1927, the first successful long distance demonstration of television was held between New York and Washington.

In 1943, the American and British troops in North Africa were joined at Tunisia.

In 1947, millions of Americans were without telephone service as telephone workers called the nation's first country-wide strike in that industry. The strike lasted 23 days.

In 1964, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama polled 35 per cent of the votes in the Wisconsin Democratic presidential primary, considered by many a referendum on the civil rights bill.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Medieval Wise Man Produced Razor-Sharp Rule For Players

More than 600 years ago William of Occam laid down a rule for the defense of certain bridge hands: Don't make unnecessary assumptions.

South made his contract in today's hand because East was weak in medieval logic.

Opening lead — ♠ 3

West opened the three of spades, and East stopped to think after taking the ace.

What if South had the A-K-Q of clubs and either Q-J-10 or Q-10-9 of spades?

South would discard dummy's second spade on a high club unless the defenders took their two spade tricks in a hurry.

East therefore returned a spade, and South delightedly took the king of spades, drew trumps, and discarded a club from dummy on the queen of spades.

He then nocked out the ace of diamonds and claimed his contract.

SHOULD SWITCH

East could defeat the contract by switching to clubs at the second trick.

West would immediately take two club tricks and the ace of diamonds.

How could East tell whether to lead spades or clubs?

There was no way to be sure of the South hand, but East did not need to assume first that South had all of the top clubs and second that West had the king of spades.

WHAT TO THINK

If East assumed only that the top clubs were divided in some way between South and West, there was no need to assume anything at all about the spades. If West had the king of spades and some high club, he could take his king of spades whenever he got a club trick.

If West did not have the king of spades, there was all the more reason for East to lead a club at once.

Spring Occam's Rule on your partner the next time you play bridge.

It may not win any tricks for you, but it should settle all arguments about which member of the partnership is the egghead.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ J 9 6 3 2
♦ A 7

ANSWER: Pass

You have 11 points in high cards and 2 points for the doubletons, enough for an optional opening bid. You would accept the option if you had a clear opening, but in this case your long spades are very weak and your clubs are strong but short.

Don't go out of your way to open the bidding when you have an awkward bid to make.

★ INTRODUCING ★ A USED CAR GUARANTEE WITHOUT ANY "YOU PAY HALF, WE PAY HALF" NONSENSE

★ ★ ★ ★

MOST used car dealers sell their cars with 50-50 guarantees. YOU know the deal; if anything goes WRONG, YOU PAY HALF the cost of parts & labor. And THEY do the same.

Well, WE don't sell used cars THAT WAY. WE GUARANTEE the REPAIR or REPLACEMENT of ALL major mechanical parts* for 30 DAYS or 1,000 MILES. There is NO CHARGE for PARTS, LABOR, ANYTHING.

WE FIXED the things that needed fixing BEFORE we put THESE used cars up for sale.

They have ALL passed a tough 16-POINT SAFETY & PERFORMANCE TEST.

SCHOOL BUSES CRASH TO TEST SAFETY FEATURES

A 1965 school bus (left) and a 1943 bus were purposely crashed Tuesday near Los Angeles. Each was going 30 miles an hour in the collision test to develop safety specifications for school buses. The buses were filled with child-size dummies held in seats by various types of belts and harnesses. The dummies were sprawled inside the 1965 bus (right) after the crash as some restraining bars, seat and chest belts gave way. The test is part of a long range study by the University of California at Los Angeles aiming at safer vehicle design to reduce injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

Foundation Established For Drake Scholars

The newly incorporated Drake Scholarship Foundation at Sir Francis Drake High School, initiated by counselor Michael R. Convis, attempts to make scholarships available to deserving seniors.

The foundation is a non-profit corporation, including the Muriel McCrum, Daniel Joseph Vacha, and plans for a Miles McColm fund, established by friends of Sir Francis Drake High School to further the education of worthy Drake seniors.

The Muriel McCrum and Daniel Vacha scholarships funds serve as a basis for the corporation. The Drake Scholarship Committee presents the awards to students on the basis of achievement, need, and seriousness of purpose. The ultimate goal of the program is to solicit and manage money for perpetual scholarships. In nearing this goal, the program has received money through wills, from the Drake Benchwarmers, the 1965 graduating class, and the San Anselmo Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Carol Falkenberg and James Sartorio, 1965 graduates, were recipients of the McCrum scholarships last year. Both students study at University of California campuses, Carol at Davis and Jim at San Diego. Mrs. McCrum taught mathematics and was dean of girls at Drake for seven years. Her fund now stands at $1,000 and Convis recently received a $50 check from an anonymous donor.

Drake graduate Daniel J. Vacha was killed in an automobile accident in 1964. His fund has reached $900 and '65 Graduate Ken Bovard was the first recipient. He attends University of California at Berkeley.

Plans for the foundation include a Drake Scholarship Week this month, with coin collections in every store in our area. A collection will be made in the school April 27.

A roadster show is tentatively scheduled for May 22.

There are plans to start a new scholarship in the name of Miles McColm, Spanish teacher who recently died of a heart attack. Convis has already received several donations in McColm's name, amounting to about $700.

Topless Japanese Divers Facinating To Scientists

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Topless skin divers, one of Japan's tourist fascinations, are doing their bit for science.

They have been letting medics try to discover the secret of their art, learned over 2,000 years ago. So far, the scientists have gained some tantalizing insights, but they still haven't figured exactly what physically enables the gals to be the most skilful underwater performers in the world.

Ranging in age from 16 to more than 60, the best can make 30 dives an hour to a depth of 60 to 70 feet in 50-degree water. They stay down a minute at a time, sustained only by the breath held in their lungs.

Their only equipment is a pair of eye goggles, a stone weight on a rope tether and a mesh bag to hold the edible seaweed and shellfish they collect from the bottom.

A report by the National Academy of Sciences summarizing several years of research indicates that the Ama, as the native divers are called, can adapt to the cold and resist high pressure by years of training. The girls eat a lot, more than 3,000 calories a day, to maintain a protective layer of fat for warmth. (Most are pretty chubby.)

But one scientist found the women can function with no ill effect when their entire bodies become chilled four degrees below normal. How is a mystery.

The Ama have learned a breathing trick, too. Upon surfacing and preparing for another dive they take long, slow breaths, giving off whistles as they exhale. Asked why they whistle, the gals say it "protects their lungs" and that it "feels better."

Scientists aren't sure what whistling does physically, but they suspect that it introduces extra air into the chest cavity, permitting deeper dives.

The divers, incidentally, take two deep inhalations followed by one normal breath before submerging. Some call the latter the "good breath."

One of the unsolved riddles is how the divers' lungs have become conditioned to high stress as they repeatedly plunge into deep water. Electronic recordings show the heart is continually changing rhythm, becoming slower the longer a diver remains submerged. This phenomenon has not been explained either.

It is the opinion of the researchers that the Ama go virtually the full limit of their endurance on each dive. They have to time themselves carefully and not go too deep or risk "taravana"—a dread diving disease that can cripple or cause death. Taravana is apparently caused by oxygen starvation.

There are about 18,000 Amas, some living in Korea. They have different customs, but all are physically much the same and have the same diving patterns.

In Japan, "Cachido" divers wade out from the shore and work in relatively shallow water, down to about 20 feet. The "Funado" are deep divers and operate from a boat, which is usually manned by their husbands. The man has the job of pulling up his mate in nine seconds or less from 70 feet and scientists say this is as much work as diving.

Girls usually start training at 15 and become highly skilled at 20. Japanese labor officials have noted recently that many girls are leaving the profession for easier work in factories.

But diving can be rewarding. Some Ama who discover beds of a rare type of abalone — the Awabi which is much prized by the Japanese—can make $28 a day.

Custom dictates that Ama, if they favor foam rubber "wet suits," can only wear the pants. Such modern gadgets as aqua lungs and scuba diving tanks are outlawed to prevent overharvesting.

Contractor Guilty In Fund Case

STOCKTON (AP) — A judge convicted a Stockton contractor yesterday of misappropriating $23,000 which had been paid by homeowners for remodeling and improvements.

Superior Court Judge Chris Papas, without a jury, convicted William M. Howard, 35, under a 1965 law which prohibits contractors from using such money for any purpose except fulfilling contracts.

Subcontractors had filed liens against the homeowners, saying they had not been paid.

The judge ordered a report by April 20 on Howard's assets, to see if he could pay subcontractors.

Hunting Gear Stolen During Moving Day

Steve E. White told San Rafael police yesterday a box of hunting and fishing equipment, including a pair of binoculars worth $84.50, disappeared from his car while he was moving from 190 Park Avenue to 149 Novato Street in San Rafael.

He listed the total value of the missing equipment at $171.93. He said it was not missed until the move was completed.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

The coronary arteries are man's lifeline. They carry blood that nourishes the heart muscle and seldom caused trouble until a century ago. With improvement in diet, sanitation, and hygiene, along with the discovery of penicillin, man began to live longer and fell prey to arteriosclerosis which thickened and narrowed the walls of all the arteries including the coronary vessels.

THIS IN BRIEF is the beginning of coronary heart disease and all its consequences, because without coronary-artery disease there would be no heart attacks. The hardening process begins early in life and rarely causes trouble until the individual is older. Some develop chest pain (angina pectoris) following exertion or excitement, especially when the beat quickens and the narrowed coronary arteries cannot deliver enough blood. Relief follows rest or relaxation because as the old ticker slows down the need for nourishment lessens.

A heart attack occurs when the artery or one of its branches is blocked completely and a portion of the heart muscle dies (infarct) for want of blood. The pain is the same as in angina except it lasts longer and is likely to be associated with more shock and apprehension. The chance of surviving coronary thrombotic attacks is good, provided the condition is treated adequately.

Most victims are bedridden during the acute phase of the illness. Some require oxygen and anticoagulants. Many need drugs to reduce pain, anxiety and tension.

IN TIME the heart muscle heals and activity is gradually resumed. Ultimately, a program of graded exercise may be outlined to physically condition the individual to return to work. Activity benefits the heart patient except when it leads to chest pain, shortness of breath, or an irregularity of the beat. There is evidence that those who have recovered from a heart attack can indulge in vigorous exercise provided the activity is increased gradually. Improved muscular endurance profits the coronary circulation by stimulating more vessels to grow into the heart muscle.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

THYROID AND STERILITY

Mrs. D. V. writes: Could a minus 15 metabolism be responsible for sterility in a woman?

REPLY

REDWOOD COAST GREETS SPRING

The historic "dog-hole" ports of the Redwood Coast, such as Mendocino (right) are ready for an influx of tourists seeking to view rhododendrons in bloom, redwood carvings such as "Father Time and the Madien" done about 1867 by Masonic Lodge master Eric Albertsen and placed atop Mendocino's Masonic temple, or famed sculptor Beniamino Bufano's partly-completed four-eyed, 85-foot statue of Peace near Fort Ross. Spring is prime time, too, to soak up the tales of famed old lumber schooner skippers such as Portwine Bob Ellefsen, Hoodlum Walvig and Midnight Olsen, who plied the tiny coastal harbors in in which "only a dog could turn around." These photos were taken for the Redwood Empire Assn. by famed photographer Ansel Adams.

Design Rejected As Too Gloomy For School

OFFENBACH, Germany (AP) — Sculptor Bern Rosenheim is protesting a city council decision rejecting his sculpture design for the new Anne Frank School in favor of one considered more optimistic.

Rosenheim, a Jew, declined the $250 second - place cash award and turned it over to charity. The council said it considered his design, showing a human form behind bars, too gloomy and deep for children.

The winning design, showing rising birds, tied with Rosenheim's entry for second place. There was no first prize. The winning design was created by Ludwig Tlaueln, a member of the council and of the ruling Socialist party.

The school is named for the young Jewish girl who died in a German concentration camp after she and her family hid from the Nazis in Amsterdam for two years.

Ninety-eight per cent of Alaska is public land.

APRIL FOOL'S JOKE IN HELSINKI TURNS OUT AS PROFITABLE IDEA

HELSINKI (UPI)—It was only an April Fool's joke but the Finnish state television is glad it happened.

On April 1 commentator Hannu Karpo, speaking with deadpan face, told viewers Finnish television had developed an electronic detection unit to catch those who had not paid their annual $18.70 licensing fee.

He warned that TV screens for which no payments had been made would be blacked out. Then he briefly blacked out all screens in the country.

The license office said yesterday both radio and TV license payments during the first days of April have nearly doubled.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Miss Teen' Contest Really Enjoyable

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —I stand here before you today, hat in hand, to tell you that I tuned in ABC-TV's "Miss Teen International Pageant" last night, and enjoyed it very much.

You may think that such a statement is just another sentence in the wind, but while anybody can say nice things about "Playhouse 90," it takes nerves of steel to praise a beauty pageant.

Snicker if you wish, but there are times when one must rise above principle.

This teen contest was by far the best and most pleasant beauty competition I have ever seen on television, and I watch them all with rapt attenion, hoping beyond hope that somebody will trip and fall flat while being crowned.

I really had thought I would have to miss the "Miss Teen International Pageant" because of other chores, and I was dismal beyond belief around the house. But through a stroke of good luck, dinner was late, very late, and it occurred to me that nothing is so pleasant with a supper after dark as a pretty girl. Since my job separates me from real people and places, I do the best I can.

As the master of ceremonies, Adam West, television's "Batman," was magnificent. I think he has found his niche. Never in "Batman" has he approached the high camp that he spread around as emcee of the teen pageant.

With his formal suit, he wore a vest and dark, studious-looking glasses, and he played his throwaway "Batman" lines to the hilt. It was much better than his series. Truthfully, he was just plain nice, and seemed to understand the basic humor and high camp of the event he was hosting more than most of the emcees do.

An on-camera female host of the house special was Miss Barbara Parkins, the beautious dark-haired young lady who always seems to be getting into trouble on the "Peyton Place" series.

Miss Parkins, it turns out, is perfectly lovely as herself, with a warm and humorous voice that shows character and intelligence to the male viewer who likes to hope for the best. It is said that Miss Parkins has qualms about the phoniness of Hollywood, and if that is so she may have trouble here by thinking too much. If she can only stop thinking, she may have great success in our fair town.

The young contestants of the teen pageant were, generally, so natural and unaffected, in contrast to the severe affectation of the older beauty competitions, that they were a joy to watch.

A viewer could not help thinking, with a sigh, of the observation about women in Clifford Odets' "The Country Girl," to the effect that they all start out as Juliets and wind up as Lady MacBeths.

As usual in these beauty contests, my favorites were Miss Brazil, Miss Italy and Miss Sweden, and as usual I stood heroically alone, almost. Miss Sweden won because she was so spectacular to look at that there would have been a sit-in had she lost. Miss Italy, however, finished out of the money, and Miss Brazil finished so far out that my dinner, finally, was ruined.

Swedish Girl Wins Teener Contest Title

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A Swedish girl who wants to be an actress reigns today as Miss Teen International.

Contestants from 11 nations took part.

Raiders' Davis New AFL Commissioner?

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League met today under a cloud of unconfirmed rumors that had Oakland Coach Al Davis succeeding Joe Foss as commissioner and veteran Houston quarterback George Blanda becoming the head coach of a new Chicago team.

The reports came in rapid-fire succession last night after it was revealed that the league's nine owners and Foss were assembled here for a scheduled — but unannounced — executive committee meeting at which expansion was one of the items on the agenda.

AFL officials, meanwhile, would not comment on the reports which said:

— Foss, the league's only commissioner since its inception in 1960, would announce his resignation, possibly to resume his political career.

— If Foss were to leave his job, he would be succeeded by Davis, the 36-year-old head coach and general manager of the Raiders who has made the Oakland club one of the most respected teams in the league.

— Chicago will become the league's 10th franchise and begin operations in the 1967 season, taking the AFL into territory now held by the rival National Football League.

— Blanda, who played with the Chicago Bears of the NFL before joining the Oilers, would be named the head coach of the AFL's Chicago entry.

The Houston Post discussed the possibility of Foss' leaving and Davis' succession to the commissioner's job wihle radio station KTRH said flatly that Chicago will be announced as the league's 10th city and Blanda as the team's coach.

The only comment forthcoming from AFL officials was one by assistant commissioner Milt Woodard, who said the league might announce its next expansion site.

"We probably will announce the city," Woodard said. "Later on in the year we'll select a group to operate the franchise."

It has been rumored at various times that Foss, who is supposed to be working on the tail-end of a multi-year contract calling for an estimated $50,000 a year, and some of the owners were not seeing eye to eye and might go separate ways.

Foss has been publicly criticized at times by some of the owners, and there were several reports during a January league meeting that he owners would vote to buy up his contract. That, however, did not happen.

The latest rumor, on the other hand, infers that Foss wants out, possibly to resume his political career. A former World War II flying ace, Foss was governor of South Dakota before becoming AFL commissioner.

Davis, dynamic and personable, has in his three years with the Raiders built a reputation as a "boy wonder" by molding the club into one of the league's most successful operations, on the field and at the box office.

MARIN TARS EDGED 2-1 IN TOURNAMENT OPENER

College of Marin's baseball team will be playing in its third game of the Golden Valley Conference tournament in Marysville today after splitting a pair of games yesterday.

Marin lost to guest American River Junior College of Sacramento 2-1 in the first game, with Dennie Thorne knocking in the lone Tar run, and then beat host Yuba College 11-8, despite three Yuba home runs off winning pitcher Jim Timmel.

Thorne got three of Marin's six hits in the first game and Jerry Daniele went three for five in the second one.

Hansgen Dies Of LeMans Auto Race Injuries

JIM MURRAY

Does Auto Racing Prove Anything?

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C.—They ran an auto race down in Sebring, Fla., the other weekend with highly predictable results. One driver was incinerated, one family was wiped out, a housewife was killed and the net gain for the science of automotive engineering was zero.

Once again they had proved conclusively that cars burn and so do people. They did not set the American record for killing spectators. A scaffolding at Indianapolis killed more a few years ago, but the record had an asterisk after it, because it wasn't hit by a car first. An accident in Europe a few years ago broke the one-day record of the German army for killing innocent people. But that was Europe.

THE AUTOMOBILE is the most popular form of suicide in the United States, one and one-half million people having taken their own lives in one since it was invented.

The excuse for auto racing is that it will cut down on this carnage, not improve on it. To date, auto racing has pioneered the rear view mirror at a cost of only a few thousand lives. It's an idea which could have occurred to anybody who could silver the back of a glass, or see his reflection in a pond, but Americans prefer more complicated solutions. Then, they sell tickets to them.

THE ROMANS had the same idea. They suspected that hungry lions were dangerous, but no one could be sure until you confronted them with live food. The lion is a piker compared to the automobile. So, as a matter of fact, is the atom bomb. In fact, the automatic pistol, the gibbet, the electric chair, are all lagging badly behind the car as a cause of death. So is heart trouble.

But, when you come to think of it, how else could you prove a 1,200-pound vehicle with 400-power traveling at 180 miles an hour, is lethal unless you raced? With a pencil and 20-20 eyesight you say? What are you, a Communist or something?

CREMATION is a spectacular sport, it seems. But it's all in the interest of science. For instance, you can—thanks to auto racing—now get a set of tires that will let you drive 500 miles around an asphalt track at an average speed of 150 miles per hour without even a tire change. And the tires will only cost you about $1,000 a set.

It was proven recently in a best-selling book ("Unsafe at Any Speed") that even highway automobiles driven by little old ladies from Pasadena and tee-totaling school teachers were as deadly as dining with a lion. One manufacturer was so grateful to the author they set detectives on him to find out if he ever voted Communist, cheated on his wife, or ate with his fingers.

YOU LOOK AT the product of Detroit, and you conclude that 60 years of auto racing has shown that chrome fins, natural mahogany dashboards, two-toned tires, mother-of-pearl steering wheels, monogrammed glove compartments and Princess telephones at every seat represent the ultimate in safety design. The last car buyer to look under the hood was a getaway driver for Pretty Boy Floyd. Carpets sell more cars than disc brakes do. The public only wants seat belts if they match the interiors. Seat belts were pioneered by an airman in a rocket sled, and it took him nearly ten years of campaigning to sell it to the car industry.

Willis Edenfield of Lakeland, Fla., and his sons, Willis Jr., 19, and Mark, 8, and Mrs. Patricia Leacock take their place on the honor roll of automotive test pilots along with Barney Oldfield and Eddie Sachs. They proved that a Porsche flying through the air has no braking power whatsoever. Also, that driver visibility at that altitude is impaired. The driver didn't even know that he had killed four people.

THE APOLOGISTS point out they were in an unauthorized area. They had gotten passes from a friend. They didn't pay to get in, note the alibi-ers.

Oh, but they did. With their lives. But I agree, maybe they shouldn't have been there. Maybe, neither should the cars.

Ollie May Start In Opener

Early in spring training, Brown appeared to need more seasoning with another year in the Pacific Coast League where he hit .293 with Tacoma in 1965.

Then Sunday he started against the Los Angeles Dodgers when Willie Mays was out with a wrist injury and walloped two singles and a double.

Yesterday, as the Giants beat their PCL Phoenix club 13-4, Brown slammed a grand slam homer and later doubled.

Ollie, brother of the Los Angeles Rams' Willie Brown, signed with the Giants after finishing high school in 1962. In 1964, he led the California League in runs, total bases, triples, homers and runs-batted-in while hitting .329 at Fresno.

Franks originally had planned to lop two from the Giants roster before heading for the game today against the California Angels in Palm Springs.

OPENING DAY

Add to that the fact Orlando Cepeda isn't fielding well and the 22-year-old Brown might have a spot in the opening day lineup.

A bright spot in the victory was the shutout pitched for three innings by left-hander Joe Gibbon who has been a disappointment much of the spring. Gibbon was acquired in a winter trade with Pittsburgh which the Giants hoped would give them a southpaw starter.

The Giants jumped on Bob Garibaldi for two runs in the first inning on a walk to leadoff batter Hal Lanier and doubles by Len Gabrielson and Jim Hart.

Dick Dietz provided three for Phoenix with a bases loaded double off Bob Bolin in the opening inning. Dietz stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly but Phoenix couldn't score again.

Practice Event Fatal To Vet, 46

ORLEANS, France (AP)—Racing driver Walter Hansgen of Bedminster, N.J., died today in the U.S. Military Hospital here of injuries suffered at Le Mans last Saturday. He was 46.

Hansgen was injured when his Ford Mark II flipped end-over-end during practice for the 24-hour Le Mans race in June.

The car skidded off the track and Hansgen was rushed to the hospital with severe fractures about the upper portion of the body and a crushed chest.

Attendants at the American Military Hospital said Hansgen died at 11:43 a.m.

The attendants did not say if Hansgen, whose life had hung in the balance for several days, had ever recovered consciousness. Nor did they say if his wife, who had come to his bedside here, was present when he died.

Hansgen, who was given first aid treatment in a Le Mans clinic following the accident, was moved by helicopter to the American hospital here shortly afterward for emergency surgical care.

He remained unconscious throughout while a team of Army doctors battled to save his life.

Ford Quits Stock Races In A Huff

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., miffed by a new stock car race ruling, pulled its factory sponsored teams from two weekend races.

Chrysler Corp., terming the ruling regrettable, said it would complete the current race schedule.

The Ford announcement came shortly after news of a new weight formula approving single overhead cam engines for racing competition in standard size category 1 cars.

The U.S. Auto Club and the National Assn. of Stock Car Racing (NASCAR) made the joint announcement from Daytona Beach, Fla.

The Ford spokesman said the firm's teams would not compete in NASCAR sponsored events at Columbia, S.C., tonight and Greenville, N.C., Saturday night.

Ford, which had asked for the ruling on its engines, said weight restrictions were too severe.

Under the new rules, Ford

REDWOOD WINS TITLE; NOVATO PLACES THIRD

Redwood High School's baseball team has brought home the championship trophy of the Pacific High School tournament from San Leandro.

The Giants of Larkspur whipped Encinal High of Alameda 6-1 in the championship game yesterday. Novato, Marin County's other team in the East Bay tournament, had won the third place trophy just moments before, on a flip of a coin after an 11-inning tie with El Cerrito, 3-3.

Ken Johnson, Redwood's sophomore shortstop, was voted the tourney's most valuable player. He drilled a two-run homer over the leftfield fence his first time up yesterday, the second straight day of cracking a round-tripper his first at bat. He also had a two-run single in the second and scored a run in the fourth, ending up with four runs batted in and two scored.

Johnson, one of the brightest prospects in the Marin Athletic League, totaled six hits in eleven at bats in the three-day tourney, good for a lusty .545 batting average. His hits included two homers and a double, and he had six RBI.

Redwood scored another run in the third. Catcher Steve LeBeck doubled, went to third on an error at shortstop, and scored on another error, this one by the Encinal second baseman. In the fourth, Johnson walked, stole second, and scored on a single by Kevin Wilson, junior right-fielder.

Jim Garrett went the distance on the mound for Redwood, the senior allowing six hits, striking out seven and walking none. Three of Encinal's six hits came in the top of the fifth when the Jets scored their lone run.

FICTION-LIKE

Novato's fiction-like story took place when a ruling handed down by tournament officials declared the extra-inning game must be concluded by 2:30 to make room for the championship game between Redwood and Encinal. Umpire Al Bumin informed the teams of the ruling after the contest had exceeded the customary seven innings.

The Hornets scored on an error to take a 1-0 lead in the first frame, and El Cerrito went ahead 2-1 in the fourth. Then Ev

Seals Pass Seattle In Race To Playoff

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wanta bet the San Francisco Seals won't win the Western Hockey League playoffs? No takers? That's not surprising.

The Seals are just about the hottest thing around these days and they're in the playoffs as of today. The Seals dumped league - leading Portland 6-4 last night to oust Seattle's Totems from fourth place.

Victoria's Maple Leafs went on a rampage in the other game of the night, earning their first shut out of the season with a 10-0 win over Los Angeles.

The biggest mystery around the league is what did player-coach Charlie Burns do to build a fire under San Francisco? On March 3, the Seals trailed Seattle by 11 points and were playing listless hockey.

Burns, out with an injury, returned to the lineup March 13 and the Seals took off. They have lost only once in their last 11 games and have an easier road ahead than has Seattle.

San Francisco has two games left with the lowly Blades of Los Angeles. Seattle must face second-place Victoria, then meets Portland twice and the Totems have beaten the Bucks only once since December, 1964.

Len Ronson opened and closed the scoring for Portland, which had a2-1 edge at the end of the first period. The Seals scored five times in the second period, however, to wrap up the win. George Swarbrick had two goals for the victors.

Gordon Redahl opened the scoring for Victoria, then added three more as the Leafs romped to their fifth straight win. Bob Barlow scored a pair of goals in the free-wheeling game that saw only three penalties called. The two penalties against the Blades led to Victoria goals.

The league is idle tonight as the teams rest for the weekend of play that will wind up the regular season.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

'Break Worm Habit,' Say Lure Makers; Striper Angling Slow

STEVENS

I have just finished reading an item by Dick Kotis of Akron, Ohio. It suggests that fishermen after trout and pan fish "break the worm habit." Were worms made for fish bait? No. Worms were made for robins. Worms wouldn't care if they never went fishing. That's why they just hang down there in the water and aren't any fun to cast or retrieve."

I should add that Dick Kotis is connected with the Fred Arbogast Co., maker of lures.

Dick Kotis should be complimented on a humorous bit of writing, and I could assure him his lures such as the Hula Popper and many others are being used. I will also go along with his statement that artificials are more fun—more sporting than worms.

I HARDLY think, however, that anglers will ever refuse to use the lowly worm. Certainly not the lads who are doing a swell job of striper catching in the Alameda Estuary where one species of worm, the Pile Worm, is at the head of the list by a number of local fishermen who, according to the Fruitvale Bait Shop, are taking some hefty fish on Pile Worms. Seems that a small group is having a field day off the Oakland Airport, at the High Street Bridge and Bay Farm Island shore. Babe Paladini landed a nice 12-pounder while fishing for perch off Bay Farm Island.

DON SMITH of Clear Lake Highlands is in good humor these days. "Crappie fishing is just fantastic," he chortled over the phone. Asked whether bait or artificials, he reported, "Both!" Don lamented the fact that black bass action has been spotty, but a few have been taken. Catfishing, some running to 5 and 6 pounds, has been fair to good both days and nights.

From another reliable source I learned that Pete Esposito and family landed three limits of stripers off the Airport, and Al Campouris weighed in a catfish weighing 8¼ pounds.

STRIPER STRIVING in the upper San Pablo Bay and in the Suisun Bay has been very slow. "Sorry, Steve, but hardly any stripers have been taken the past few days," reported Nadine Lessley. Well, that is fishing. The fact that the lower Bay area has come to life indicates, in my book, a fresh run of bass is due by the middle of the coming week. Here's hoping!

Salmon trollers have been fairly fortunate. Betty Urbais of Sausalito Boat and Tackle reported The Chief on Monday netted 20 salmon for 10 rods and the Blue Horizon had 24 for 11 rods. Asked about the Blue Horizon on its trip after rockfish, Betty informed me the skipper of the Blue Horizon boated 22 limits of assorted rockfish—mostly big reds and blues along with 22 lings. Area fished? The end of the Farallones.

Venturi Confident: 'Break Up Big 3'

By RON SPEER

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ken Venturi says it's time somebody ends the Big Three's domination of the Masters Golf Tournament, and the dapper Californian would like nothing better than to be the man that bumps Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gray Player out of the winner's circle.

"If somebody else wins, that might shake up the Big Three a little," said Venturi, one of the early starters today in the opening round of the golf classic that attracted 103 of the world's top players.

Venturi, making his 10th Masters bid, is one of a handful of outsiders given a chance to whip the trio that has won the past six championships, and he thinks he has a shot at the title.

"My hands are feeling pretty good now, as long as it is hot," said the 34-year-old two-time runner-up whose career was nearly ended before an operation helped his hands, stiffened by a circulatory ailment.

"The drier the course gets, the better my chances are," added Venturi. "A lot more people will be in the running if the course gets hard, because they will be able to keep up better with Nicklaus' driving."

Strong winds have dried the course during the past few days after it was softened by a Sunday rain.

"Nicklaus and Palmer definitely have to be reckoned with on this course, though, because there is no premium for accuracy and no substitute for length," he said.

Venturi said he was pleased with his play this year, when he got off to a strong start by winning the Lucky International at San Francisco despite cold weather "which gave me a helluva time, and forced me to keep hand warmers around all the time."

Venturi twice just missed winning the Masters. In 1956 he almost became the first amateur to win the title, but after leading for three days shot himself out of the championship with an 80. In 1960 he lost by one stroke to Palmer, who won the title in 1958, 1962 and 1964.

Those setbacks were forgotten by Venturi fans two years ago when he won the U.S. Open with a courageous showing on a hot, humid day in Washington.

"That's the kind of weather I'd like now," Venturi said. "With my hands I'm strictly a warm-weather golfer. I had trouble here in practice when it got chilly in the morning. My hands wouldn't work right for the first few holes."

Venturi was ranked with Doug Sanders, Bruce Devlin, Gay Brewer Jr., Tony Lema and Billy Casper as the most dangerous challengers to the Big Three.

"I personally wouldn't consider it an upset if somebody besides the Big Three won," Venturi said. "But I guess the Big Three and the press would."

Nicklaus and Palmer played a head-to-head practice nine yesterday in their final tuneup, and finished even with one-under-par 35, Palmer said.

Both are working with new clubs. Nicklaus said he still doesn't feel comfortable with the driver he got after shattering in South Africa the driver he used since turning pro in 1962.

Player, who said he has been playing reasonably well in the practice rounds, has recovered from a bout with the gout that sidelined him last fall.

A sell-out crowd was expected to follow the Big Three over the rolling course, where the final holes on Saturday and Sunday will be nationally televised.

Celtics Romp; So Do Hawks

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers won't win the big prize in the National Basketball Assn. after all.

Their pride stung when the 76ers ended their nine-year domination in the Eastern Division, the aroused Boston Celtics trounced the 76ers for the second straight time last night 114-93.

It was Boston's fourth straight victory in the NBA playoffs since they rallied from a 2-1 deficit to eliminate Cincinnati in the Eastern Division best-of-five semifinal. The Celtics now lead the 76ers 2-0 in the best-of-seven Eastern Division final, which resumes tonight in Philadelphia, and seem headed for their eighth straight NBA title.

St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 120-113 in the Western Division finals and now trail the Lakers 2-1 in the best-of-seven series, which resumes Saturday night in St. Louis.

When Philadelphia thwarted Boston's hopes for a 10th straight Eastern Division crown, Chamberlain, the league's Most Valuable Player, said, "This is just a down payment on the big one," referring to the league championship that goes to the winner of the playoffs.

INCREDIBLE LEAD

A sellout crowd of 13,909 at Boston Garden saw big Bill Russell pace the Celts as they led all the way in routing the 76ers. It was 58-44 at halftime and Celts opened an incredible 29-point lead at 110-81 with 2½ minutes left.

Russell left the game at that point and received a full minute's ovation. He had 29 rebounds, nine assists and 10 points in addition to many steals and blocked shots. Chamberlain ended with 25 rebounds and 23 points.

Bill Bridges, with 27 points, sparked St. Louis over the Lakers before a hometown turnout of 8,318. The Lakers, winners in the first two games of the series at Los Angeles, took an early lead.

The Hawks caught up and went ahead for good at 88-87 on Bridges' basket late in the third period. Zelmo Beaty followed with four points on a basket and two free throws and Bridges got another two-pointer to widen the gap.

Fritz, second baseman, drove home a run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh, and Tom Owens, two for five on the day, singled home another run in the 10th, again putting Novato in front, 3-2.

If the Hornets could have stymied the El Cerrito nine then, it would have eliminated what some might consider an unfair decision.

It was 2:25 after El Cerrito scored in its half of the 10th, tying it at three-all. At the conclusion of the 11th, a coin was flipped, a dime.

Novato called tails, the dime landed on heads, but that's the way things happen sometimes. Isn't it?

Winning pitcher Wayne Jones, who relieved John Dolinsek in the sixth, yielded three hits and one run while issuing two walks and striking out six.

Charton had a sore arm last summer with Toronto and he too suffered a recurrence this spring.

must give away one pound per cubic inch of piston displacement. This means Fords must weigh one pound more for each inch of displacement if it uses the 427-cubic inch engine as compared with the Dodge or Plymouth, both Chrysler Corp. products.

The USAC-NASCAR announcement said the new weight formula for any single overhead cam powered car will be 10.3 pounds per cubic inch or displacement as opposed to 9.38 pounds per cubic inch for wedge and hemi engines.

At the same time, the two groups said that the dual four-barrell carburetor would be permitted on the wedge-type engines only.

"We'll just have to wait for our engineering department to evaluate the factors involved," a Ford spokesman said.

"It seems rather ridiculous that the Fords would have to weigh about 450 pounds more than its competitors in races," he added, saying: "The increased weight would make it mandatory that we change braking, the structure of the car and the tires."

Wisconsin Plan Is 'Preposterous'

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren C. Giles said today it is preposterous to ask the league to formulate an expansion program in less than a week.

Giles made his statement in connection with a proposal at Milwaukee yesterday by the State of Wisconsin that the Braves be ordered to play in Milwaukee this year instead at Atlanta only if the National League failed to agree to put a league franchise in Milwaukee for 1967.

Some Exotic Hunting On Tap In California

By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A Californian who said he was going hunting for crested tinamou today probably would be asked if he'd also been seeing pink elephants.

But the time may come when the crested tinamou, Afghan white-winged pheasant, Turkish chukar, Barbary partridge and black francolin are hunted here as regularly as the pheasant and quail.

These exotic - sounding creatures are being raised and released in the state as part of the exotic game bird program of the California Fish and Game Department.

If it sounds pretty far out, game managers can point to the time in the past when Chinese ringnecked pheasants and Indian chukars in California sounded just as unlikely. Now they provide hunting in areas where previously there was little or none.

The crested tinamou, a native of the high, dry sections of Argentina, is the most recent immigrant. Ten of the birds arrived this week at the state's game farm near Vacaville.

If the tinamou reproduces in sufficient numbers at the farm, some will be released in the Mohave and Colorado desert areas of Southern California where presently there is very little upland game.

The tinamou is slightly smaller than a pheasant, but flies at about the same speed.

"It looks something like a streamlined guinea hen," said Harold Harper, upland game supervisor for the Department of Fish and Game.

The most successful import was the pheasant, brought here in 1889. It took 36 years, but the pheasant became established in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys in sufficient numbers to be hunted. It has thrived like a native, and now some 200,000 hunters bag 700,000 ringnecks in California each year.

The Indian chukar, native to the foothills of the Himalayas, is a more recent import. The first were released in the wild in eastern California's high, arid country in 1933. It has been hunted since 1954 and now provides sport for some 30,000 hunters each fall.

The state, counties, individuals and organizations have tried over the years to establish about 30 species of upland game birds.

Most have failed because the birds weren't suited to the new and strange habitat.

The most spectacular failure was the coturnix quail, planted in numbers near 11,000 in California over the years, but never able to reproduce in the wild.

The department has higher hopes for the newcomers, mainly because of preliminary research and matching of the birds to habitat here which resembles their native haunts.

Wild turkeys imported from other sections of the United States have become established in parts of California, and Harper said there now are enough to hold hunts in some areas.

Last year, the department released 862 Barbary partridges, 1,290 Turkish chukars, 1,640 French red-legged partridges in continuing programs. Greek chukars, Spanish red - legged partridges and Afghan white-winged pheasants were planted for the first time.

Black and gray francolins are being reared in pens at the game farm with the aim of releasing them in the wild for the first time this year.

Still Good Skiing At The Higher Elevations; Many Events Slated

It's spring skiing time, with still lots of snow in the mountains at the higher elevations. The snow is best early in the day and later in the afternoon, and with sunlight lasting until 6 p.m., many areas are running lifts until 5 p.m.

Earliest lift time we know of is at Boreal, when the chair will begin at 7:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

This will follow sunrise services at 7 a.m. on the sundeck, conducted by Rev. William Dowling of Christ the King Lutheran Church of North Lake Tahoe. Ski clothes are OK for this, according to Babs Fischer, who is in charge of arrangements.

SPECIAL EVENTS at Alpine Meadows on Saturday are the 10 a.m. Easter egg hunt; and on Sunday the 10:30 a.m. children's fun race and the 1:30 p.m. stockholders' champagne team race, both at the Big Poma hill.

There will be a Mad Hatter contest on Sunday at Alpine at the lodge at 11 a.m. and at 1:30 p.m. the Sunday Slalom at the Big Poma hill.

Alpine Meadows is inviting all Northern California ski organizations to send their club emblems to be mounted inside the lodge as decorations. Size limit is 18x24 inches.

AT SUGAR BOWL on Saturday there will be junior giant slalom races, and the juniors will compete in the Walt Disney Trophy race on Sunday.

Some of the Sugar Bowl Junior Racing Team members will be at Badger Pass on Saturday in the Yosemite Trophy races.

On Sunday at Badger Pass the Yosemite Winter Club Championship races will be held for seniors and class A, B and C racers.

SQUAW VALLEY will have the McFadden Memorial race on Easter Sunday.

Boreal Ridge is scheduling a Chicken Slalom on Saturday, and on Sunday a hat parade and a snow sculpture contest, with awards made at 1:15 p.m.

Most ski areas plan to stay open until the end of April, some limiting operation to weekends only.

Sugar Bowl will be in full swing until the end of the month, with the big Silver Belt weekend coming up on April 16-17. This is expected to draw some of the internationally known skiers who were in the High Sierra Cup competition last weekend.

SPRING SKIING and long lunch hour picnics bring out wonderful costumes. There are the sturdy girls and young men who breeze by in cut-off blue jeans with lots of bare leg, the more conservative who strip down to a sleeveless shirt and ski pants, and the zippy girl who wears a flirty ski skirt with matching tights and slick sweater.

Wow - now's the time for people-watching!

Marin PAL Meet Scheduled Tonight

County-wide plans concerning baseball, a proposed booster club and final plans for a Mill Valley boxing program will be discussed by William Porter at a meeting of the Marin Police Athletic League at 7:30 p.m., today, at the Edgewater Restaurant, Corte Madera.

Also to be discussed by PAL President Porter is a report from a meeting with county chiefs of police relating to the league.

724 Snares Lead In ABC Singles

The 38-year-old photographer rolled games of 255, 205 and 264, as the ABC continued yesterday to shatter an old tradition about low scores during Easter week.

Angelo, a left-hander, came within one frame of 10-pin immortality in the final game. He opened up with three strikes, but then ran into a 1-3-6-7 washout.

He carried only three pins and then struck out to move past Warren Matthias of Paramus, N.J., who had led the division for nine days with 709.

A strike in the fateful fourth frame would have given Angelo the first perfect game in the six-year history of the classic singles.

Angelo also had 584 in the team event and 574 in the doubles for a third-place all-events total of 1,882.

Man Who Pays The Bills Getting Into The Swing Of Easter Fashion

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a time when all Dad got for Easter was the bills. But not this year.

If he gets a tie, it may be a Paisley print and three inches wide. And he may be wearing a new iridescent jacket and a polka-dotted shirt.

"The Carnaby Street, London, influence is coming on like gangbusters," said R. K. Einstein, vice president J. L. Brandeis & Sons, Omaha, Neb. "It's a whole new approach to young men's clothing, the most significant change since the Ivy look."

Last year, retail sales of men's wear were an estimated $13.5 billion. This year, the forecast is for $14.5 billion. Boys' wear is expected to be up 10 per cent from last year's $3-billion mark.

"Men have awakened to fashion, more than ever before," said Ella Waters of Strawbridge & Clothier, Jenkintown, Pa.

"Carnaby Street of London may not be acceptable to men of good taste," said Melvin E. Dawley, President of Lord & Taylor, the Fifth Avenue department store in New York. "But it is influencing his clothes."

Two Banks List Greater Earnings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Strong first-quarter earnings gains were reported by Wells Fargo bank and Crocker-Citizens National Bank.

Wells Fargo yesterday reported earnings of $5,744,504 or 64 cents a share, up 23 per cent from the comparable 1965 figure.

Crocker-Citizens' said its net operating income advanced to $5,611,605 or 60 cents a share from $5,206,746 or 55 cents a share a year ago.

Earnings of both institutions in the year ago period reflected the higher interest rates on savings initiatied in January, 1965.

Brewery Sale Plans Approved

SAN FRANCISCO — Shareholders of General Brewing Corp., have voted to approve the proposed sale of the company's Azusa brewery.

Jess Nicks, president, told shareholders word has been received that the U.S. Justice Department, based on the information currently available, will not block the proposed brewery sale.

He predicted sale of the Azusa brewery to Miller Brewing Co. for $8 million will be completed by the originally announced target date of May 1.

More Passengers

SAN FRANCISCO—American Airlines during March carried 19 per cent more passengers from San Francisco International Airport than the same month a year ago, according to Frank M. Burg, district sales manager. The first three months of the year showed a 17 per cent increase over last year, Burg said.

Glamor Stocks Climb, But Blue Chips Wilt

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was scrambled at the close today as glamor stocks posted wide gains and many blue chips wilted. Trading was heavy.

American Telephone toppled about a point in late trading and the Big Three auto stocks all were lower. A few blue chips, Eastman Kodak, Kennecott and Anaconda held gains.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 9.7 million shares compared with 9.25 million yesterday.

Despite the dampening effect of the three-day Easter weekend — stock markets close Good Friday — wide gains were made by favored issues.

IBM and Braniff Airways gained 7 points. Braniff when-issued nearly 5, Boeing and Zenith about 3.

Up a point or better were Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., Raytheon, General Electric, United Air Lines, Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central.

Blue chips took a back seat with some exceptions. General Motors, American Telephone, U.S. Steel and Standard Oil (New Jersey) eased.

The averages were bolstered, however, by Eastman Kodak, up more than 2, Du Pont and Southern California Edison, up fractions, and Sears Roebuck up 1.

SCM Corp. looked like the most active stock as it rose about 2.

Admiral gained 3, Cerro Corp. 2, Magnavox nearly 2, Harvey Aluminum and Cessna a point or better. Fairchild Camera and Delta Airlines also added 2 or more.

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Solitron Devices advanced more than 16 points, its when-issued 8 and Simmonds Precision nearly 15.

Corporate bonds were unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

Savings, Loan Merger Planned

A proposed merger of two of the major savings and loan associations in California into a single $2 billion association was revealed today in a notice of public hearing issued by the State Department of Investment, division of savings and loan.

Involved are American Savings and Loan Assn. of California, headquartered in San Francisco, with 31 offices in Northern California, and American Savings and Loan Assn., headquartered in Whittier, with 18 offices in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Both are members of First Charter Financial Corp. The merger application states that the northern association would be the emerging association and would continue the name of American Savings and Loan Assn.

New Market Set For Forest Knolls; Northgate Sporting Goods Sold

About May 1, the old Roma Market in Forest Knolls should be in business again — giving residents in that area a new place to trade since the burning of the Moulton Mercantile Co. to the ground in February.

But it will have a new name —Don's Market No. 2—and a new owner in the person of Andrew A. Isetta, who has been operating Don's No. 1 at 1589 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax for a number of years. Isetta has applied for transfer of the offsale liquor license issued to Roma Weaver and hopes for an approval to open by the end of this month.

He and his sons will alternate between the two markets.

NORTHGATE SPORTING GOODS at 192 Northgate Shopping Center has been sold by Melvin J. Burman to Finley C. Landreth of Novato, who has been working for Burman over the last seven years and has been in the sporting goods business about twice that time—actually he helped Burman open the store. He will continue under the same name and the operation will be conducted along the same lines as before.

Burman still retains his Northgate Toys and Hobbies store a few doors away at 210 Northgate Shopping Center.

HENRY SHOBAR of Larkspur has moved his San Francisco offices and showroom (Ad Specialties Unlimited) to enlarged quarters at 420 Market Street. He now has room to display hundreds of calendars, pens, ash trays and other business gifts, premiums and prizes.

BACK IN TIBURON is James L. Zeigler, who has returned to the San Francisco office of Arthur D. Little, Inc. after a two-year assignment for this management consulting firm in Nigeria. Prior to joining the company 10 years ago, when he also moved to Tiburon, he had worked in the forest products industry of the Pacific Northwest. His work in Nigeria included feasibility studies for the manufacture of furniture, plywood and veneer production in that country, and in the improvement of its palm produce and rubber.

JOSEPH A. LAVIN of Novato has been appointed district manager for Southern Ohio for United Parcels Service. He and his family will move to Cincinnati about May 1. Lavin began his career with the company in 1950 as a driver in San Francisco and later became a driver at the San Rafael center. In 1962 he was made Northern California operations manager and recently has been on special assignment in the Midwest. His business experience started long before all this—as a carrier for this newspaper.

ROBERT F. KAUFMANN of Ross, owner of Ayres Pools, is listed among acknowledgment to contributors of design and construction information for Sunset Magazine's new revised edition of Swimming Pool.

Reputation For Drama Is Gaining At College

"The Three Penny Opera," which ended its five showings at College of Marin's Harlan Hall last weekend, is another feather in the cap of the highly acclaimed college drama department.

The fact that the play was a sellout even before the first of five performances opened on March 25 attests to the reputation that the college drama department has earned through the excellence of past productions.

This is particularly notable because amateur drama and music often fall far short of excellence, and most amateur groups lament the lack of attendance.

The entire cast for "The Three Penny Opera" was composed of college students. Director was James Dunn, head of the college drama department, and musical director was Larry Snyder, college music instructor. In other words, it was an all-College of Marin show.

The same group last fall produced "Romeo and Juliet" and "The Servant of Two Masters." These received such rave notices that the College of Marin group was invited to perform at the Western Drama Conference at the University of Oregon, the first such recognition that a junior college has received.

Kudos should also go to the college trustees and the administration for supporting the drama department and other cultural activities at the college in an effort to catch the public eye and enhance the reputation of the college.

The work of the drama department has certainly lived up to the faith placed in its capabilities by the college board of trustees and the administration.

Harlan Hall can seat only 132 at a time, which means that only 660 were able to see the play during the five presentations.

Congratulations to the College and its drama department for their outstanding contribution to the culture of Marin County.

A REFLECTION FOR GOOD FRIDAY

Good Friday is death to all merely earthbound aspirations but the beginning of life to those who have faith. As Jesus said: "Unless the grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone. But if it dies, it brings forth much fruit." (John 12:24-25)

Good Friday is the perfect obedience of the Son of God that leads to undying hope for all who choose the liberty of the sons of God. St. Paul exclaimed: "For if we have been united with Him in the likeness of His death, we shall be so in the likeness of His resurrection also." (Romans 6:5)

Good Friday is infinite forgiveness in the midst of crushing sorrows. It enables men of every age to realize that "it is in pardoning we are pardoned and that it is in dying we are born to eternal life . . . "Now that your obedience to charity has purified your souls for a brotherly love that is sincere, love one another heartily and intensely." (1 Peter 1:22)

Help me by the power of Your cross, O Jesus, to change despair into hope, sadness into joy.

Plumas County Battles Welfare Rules Over Director's Salary

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO—A question of significant import will be discussed April 15 when Plumas county officials are scheduled to appear before Jack Wedemeyer, state director of social welfare and show cause why the department should not impose sanctions against the county for alleged failure to comply with provisions of the welfare code.

THE CASE stems from the fact that the Plumas county auditor refused to pay the salary of John T. Neyerlin, Plumas County welfare director, while Neyerlin is on leave for a year to engage in graduate study at Sacramento State College.

The Plumas County auditor refused salary payment on the grounds that such payment is a gift of public money, and therefore unconstitutional. The refusal is the first one of its type. The department says 214 welfare employees are on educational leave, 183 of which consist of welfare personnel, and 31 are students preparing for social work employment.

THE COST of the stipends this year amount to $826,200, derived from both federal and state sources. Under federal direction, the state must have programs for educational advancement, and show increases of 10 per cent annually in the number of stipends.

Fundamentally, of course, the question is whether a county can run its own social welfare program, or whether it is forced to accept dictation from the state and federal governments to obtain grants from these two divisions of government.

THE NEXT major question is whether it actually is constitutional to allocate public monies for educational advancement. This is a question which can be determined only by the courts.

Plumas county officials are hanging tight on their contention that such payments actually are a gift of public money.

On the other hand, the Department of Social Welfare also is adamant on the grounds it has the authority under the Social Welfare Code to require payment of the stipend. Failure to pay the educational stipend, the department holds, allows withholding state and federal funds from the county, permits the state to take over administration of welfare in the county, or bring mandamus action in court to force compliance.

Many reasons have been advanced to justify the theory of providing graduate education for welfare workers, the primary one being that administration will have a better trained staff which could do a more efective job of helping persons in need.

WHILE THE objective may be sound, there still is the question of whether the constitution is being observed. This document forbids gifts of public monies, and does not specify any instances in which such gifts may be justified. Also, the constitution requires that all citizens be treated equally, and so far no general program for financing educational aid has been made available to the public. Result is that this may be a long, drawn-out case to determine some legalities.

Child Safety Concern Of All

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I'm writing this both as a private citizen and mother of a four-year-old child and as executive director of the Marin Easter Seal Society. Last week three children in marvelous Marin were victims of accidents—two of them, fatal. These accidents occurred three days in a row.

The boy struck down and killed by a car was acting according to known safety rules, crossing in a pedestrian zone with the green light. The child burned to death in a mistaken attempt to rescue a baby was seen entering a burning house, and the toddler who fell through the posts of a deck shouldn't have been out there unattended in the first place. Fortunately, this last child was retrieved unharmed.

The forgoing dirge points up the need, even in our most beautiful county, for more attention directed to child safety. "Child wastage," through avoidable accidents, is the greatest cause of crippling and death among infants and children. Easter Seal Society is involved directly with alleviating crippling conditions, but we are deeply concerned with their prevention not only through research but through every day common sense and caring on the part of all citizens.

The most secluded street is violated by speed happy drivers, the most modern home presents fire hazards, and the most beautiful bay view deck may prove treachery, itself--because we don't care enough.

The safety of all our children should be the vital concern of everyone.

Wild Rivers To Be Tamed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Have been reading about water rights and farmers and wonder what could possibly be done to alert Californians (to) the loss of our "wild rivers." Once we were told that Klamath River and Feather River were considered to be under the protection or under legislation called "untamed wild river streams."

Now the State Water Rights Board voted in favor of the farmers. This is how it will work: The farmers get the water by building four dams and two power plants (selling power to PG&E and paying for projects) so water is free.

Klamath River also (was) marked for wild river project until Senate Bill S1446; this means the end of salmon and steelhead runs, end of most wild life scenic and aesthetic values.

Most of the rivers to be classified or included for protection are in other parts of the U. S. California is the largest state and unless the people of this state wake up and demand that the federal and state boards include Klamath and Feather rivers (we) will be in a terrible mess in the future. Do hope this will help a little in alerting the people.

Astonished By President

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Only with astonishment did I read that the president has today urged "everyone from housewives to big business, labor and government at all levels to join efforts to hold down spending." In apparent ephemeral fervor against inflation, he has even asked Mrs. Johnson to defer building a couple of rooms on their house down in Texas and try to buy cheaper cuts of meat.

Seems like only yesterday (in fact, it was March 30, 1966) that Republicans (our own Congressman Clausen included), proposing to eliminate funds from additional "Great Society" spending because of its inflationary effect when added to the Viet Nam War effort, were chided by administration spokesmen as "blind when it came to consideration of human beings!"

I say hurrah for Mr. Clausen!

Fire Protection Needs Improvement

Editor, Independent-Journal:

To expand on the letter of April 1, 1966, by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baznik in which the statement was made that the Marinwood Fire Department may not provide the best protection.

Marinwood has only one fire truck designed to fight structure fires, and it is never to leave the Marinwood area because to do so would leave the area unprotected for structure fires.

Furthermore Marinwood only has two professional firemen on duty during the day and five are required to man the structure fire truck and one to man the fire house. Therefore six men have to report to the fire house to man the station and fire truck in response to a fire call.

When there is a fire in a neighboring community, if more than six men respond to a stand by alert they can be sent with the small truck which is basicly the same as the county trucks which were designed to protect watersheds and fight grass fires.

It seems to me that both Marinwood and Upper Lucas Valley are somewhat lacking in fire protection. Marinwood is dependent upon one structure fire truck, which is not infallible, and volunteers, who are not always available because most of them work days.

I do not see why both areas cannot join together as a fire protection district which would not affect community pools, TV antennas or any other local identities. Just plain good fire protection with professional firemen who are paid a salary which would enable them to remain with the district instead of moving off to richer grounds.

It is time to stop thinking about local small politics and time to start action on fire protection for our families and loved ones while at home and school.

ACCORDING TO David Schoenbrun, whose biography of General Charles De Gaulle is one of the highlights of the current literary season, France's usually austere and egotistical leader has, hidden under his craggy surface, a very fine and subtle sense of humor. On one occasion, for example, a subordinate was having the devil of a time putting through a long distance phone call (Have YOU ever tried to get a number on a Paris telephone?) and finally shouted to the operator, "Death to all fools!" De Gaulle remarked quietly, "What a vast program, my friend!"

Biographer Schoenbrun insists that General De Gaulle was also quite a ladies' man in his day, and even fought a couple of duels with outraged husbands of ladies who had been overwhelmed by his charms. Questioned about a rumor that De Gaulle and the late Marshal Petain once courted the same beauty, Schoenbrun declared that De Gaulle himself admitted, "Ah yes, Petain and I sometimes operated on the same terrain, but never on the same night."

"It's a funny thing about life: if you refuse to accept anything but the very best, you very often get it!"

"A woman can forgive a man for the harm he does her, but never for the sacrifices he makes on her account."

House Majority Leader Differs With President Over Inflation

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson said to the reporters: "I talked about it yesterday to the business leaders. I talked about it this afternoon to the mayors. I'll talk about it tomorrow with the labor leaders."

Mr. Johnson did not have to explain "it." It meant only one thing — inflation.

TO THE PRESIDENT inflation has become a clear and present danger.

But when is he going to break the news to the Democratic Majority Leader of the House of Representatives?

To Rep. Carl Albert, of Oklahoma, a loyal Administration spokesman, inflation is a Republican "cliche" which would have no reality if the Republicans would quit talking about it.

To the President inflation means that "prices are going up too fast for comfort," and that the "recent rate of price increases cannot long be tolerated."

To the Majority Leader of the House, all this talk about inflation and intolerably rising prices should be dismissed as the "flying saucers" — as just so much "swamp gas."

MR. JOHNSON knows differently. He is thinking and talking of little else these days than the need to make sure — before it is too late — that inflation is checked. He knows a consensus when he sees one and he knows when a consensus reflects an acute and nationwide concern.

The President knows the public is acutely aware of the peril of rising prices and shrinking dollars. He knows nothing could swamp his Administration more perilously than to create the impression that he will be hesitant to seek and apply the necessary restraints.

Mr. Johnson is now showing that he is acutely anxious about inflation and says he will not hesitate to propose a tax increase "even in an election year."

Of course, one or two good speeches are not a substitute for a good decision, but they show that the President is moving in the right direction — and when he gets moving he usually doesn't stop.

THIS IS why it is the more ludicrous to have the Mayority Leader of the House of Representatives, which originates all tax measures, dismissing inflation as a "Republican cliche."

President Johnson is not suggesting that inflation will go away if we will only stop talking about it. He is talking about it. But Representative Albert is not making sense — and is not fooling anybody — when he suggests that the Republicans have invented inflation to harass the Administration. This is pure nonsense. No, impure nonsense. I'll bet Mr. Albert wishes he never said it.

But he went even further and if it ever gets to the housewife that he said it, she's likely to hurl a bag of groceries right at his head.

This, from the Congressional Record:

Mr. Albert: "The February increase in consumer prices was almost entirely due to increases in prices of food and services."

Rep. Thomas Curtis, R., Mo.: "The reason I took the floor was the amazement I experienced in hearing the Majority Leader saying, 'oh, well, the consumer price index has just gone up in the area of food.'

"FOR PETE'S SAKE, what concerns the people most if not food?"

It is reasonable that the President should want to act with great deliberation in curbing the over-heated economy. But delay can be dangerous; the need is to act "with all deliberate speed."

Build-Up In Pacific Tied To Asia Policy

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A huge build-up of U. S. naval, air and ground forces is under way in the Pacific in preparation for a possible military showdown with Red China.

Overshadowed by the Viet Nam conflict, U. S. forces in the Pacific command of Adm. U. S. Grant Sharp are being steadily increased to a planned level of one million men by the end of 1967.

THIS SYSTEMATIC build-up, which began quietly last year, now totals around 600,000 men, 440 ships and more than 5,600 Navy and Air Force planes.

Air Force and Naval air strength is to grow to more than 6,000 planes, and naval strength to more than 500 ships, including two more high-speed attack carriers, before the anticipated period of "maximum danger" in Asia.

The Navy now has three attack carriers, including the nuclear - powered Enterprise, off the coast of Viet Nam. Six other carriers are assigned to Admiral Sharp's command with headquarters in Honolulu.

Two of these carriers, with a score of escort ships, are patroling the coast of China. Their main assignment is protection of Nationalist - held Formosa and supporting U. S. forces, including two Army divisions in Korea.

OF THIS GIANT military organization, 300,000 men—approximately half—are directly engaged in Viet Nam operations. The remainder are manning ships, planes and bases strung out from the Arctic to the Indian ocean.

Sam Pryor, retired Pan-American Airways vice president, following an inspection trip of these bases for President Lyndon B. Johnson, told Washington friends the military build-up in the Pacific is the greatest since World War II, with new units scheduled to arrive for months to come.

Also operating in the Pacific is a squadron of Polaris submarines. Another squadron, consisting of four submarines, will be assigned there next year, the nuclear underseas craft being shifted from the Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Home port of the Pacific squadron is Pearl Harbor, although most of these nuclear subs are operating from Guam and rotating their crews between Hawaii and Guam. Their tender Proteus is based at Guam.

These Polaris submarines are armed with 16 A-2 missiles with a range of 1,500 miles. They are slated to be re-armed with A-3s that have a range of 2,800 miles.

ONE-THIRD of the Strategic Air Command's B-52 striking force is now operating from bases in the Pacific.

While nearly half of these bombers are employed in strikes at Communist positions and forces in South Viet Nam, all Pacific-based B-52s retain their nuclear striking capability. Currently they use only conventional bombs.

The build-up, which will increase the number of army and marine divisions in the Pacific from eight to 12, is designed to support expanding Viet Nam operations and put teeth into the policy of "containment but not isolation" of Communist China.

The immense military force will backstop Ambassador Arthur Goldberg's efforts at the United Nations to prod Peking into negotiating an overall Asian settlement involving South Viet Nam, South Korea, Formosa, Thailand and the disputed border areas with India.

Larkspur's Mayor Knew All Along Where Ron Piper Was Going To Go

Lost: A city manager.
Found: A business partner.

When Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur's first city manager, resigned from that position Feb. 28 after holding it nine years, his announcement was met with a somewhat stoic response from Mayor Neil R. Brixon. The mayor said he was sorry to hear of Piper's resignation, "but it is just one of those things."

IN RETROSPECT, the mayor received word of the announced resignation with understandable calm. It was not exactly news to him at that point. Piper resigned to buy a third interest in Servicemaster of Golden Gate, Inc., which holds the local franchise of a building maintenance supply firm with headquarters in Chicago. His partners in the business, which has operated in the area for eight years, are Robert Hampton, a Larkspur resident, and another fellow well known in the area—Mayor Neil R. Brixon.

"We were looking for a third man and he was looking for a job he couldn't lose by a three-to-two vote," said the mayor. "It's as simple as that."

THINGS WERE not as gloomy as they seemed. Else Goodhope, mother of 10-year-old Sammy Goodhope of 45 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera, who was bitten by a dog in front of his apartment on March 20, reported her son did not have to undergo the expected series of painful antirabies shots.

A board of doctors at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital ruled Thursday that, even though the offending dog had not been found, the threat of rabies was not enough to necessitate the shots.

MRS. GOODHOPE reported she was much relieved to hear this decision, "but I still think Corte Madera should have a leash law."

Another argument in favor of the leash law was advanced this week by a town employee who has followed with interest a drive to clean up and beautify the town by June, when Corte Madera celebrates its 50th anniversary.

"A leash law would do more to beautify Corte Madera than even the best organized clean-up campaign," she said anonymously.

Methane Monitor Developed By Bureau

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Interior Department's Bureau of Mines has developed the world's first successful machine-mounted methane monitor to guard against underground gas explosions.

Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall said Tuesday development of the device was "a giant step forward in efforts to eliminate the type of major coal mine disaster that can snuff out scores of lives in seconds." He said that with the new monitor miners won't have to stop work periodically to test for the presence of gas.

Letter Writers Tell Columnist His Opinions Are Having Effect

The lifeblood of a column is the mail it provokes, since that is the only assurance the columnist has that he is not talking just to himself, pleasurable and lofty - planed though that dialogue may be. And you may be certain, when you have moved a reader to write, that his response is not the guarded opinion he often gives in answering a pollster's questionnaire. For you or against you, he comes out swinging.

A recent dissent takes me to task vigorously for backing the "warhawks and paranoids" who got us into Viet Nam. The note is postmarked San Francisco but is unsigned because, says the writer, "under a military dictatorship, one never signs one's name."

I AGREE with that dictum but can't see how it applies to America, where legislators, educators and ministers—none anonymous—combine to stage teach-ins at our leading universities to protest our military policy and organize up to 250,000 people who march through the main streets of our big cities—under police protection —to demonstrate their opposition, while the cameras of Tass record the event for display behind the Iron Curtain.

If ours is a military dictatorship, the brass ought to be thrown out of the junta union for violating all the rules. Would such goings-on be permitted in Cuba, Russia, East Germany, Poland, Hungary, North Viet Nam or Red China, all of which are military dictatorships in good standing? The record indicates that the demonstrators would have been lined up before the firing squads, with or without a trial.

Still, if my anonymous correspondent wants to cower, let him cower. He is entitled to pursue happiness in his own way. I doubt not he is even now engaged in writing a book of the frightful period when America was under the heel of a military dictatorship and that the book will eventually be made required reading — over the protests of those who would gag "academic freedom" — at our more liberal institutions of learning, where shaking with fear at right-wing terrorists is obligatory.

THERE ARE THOSE who still quiver at the dread era of McCarthyism, and I saw two of them go into convulsive shudders this week on TV as they recalled those dark days when Joe McCarthy would pull a name out of a hat and the innocent victim would be promptly guillotined. Nobody dared utter a protest except liberal newspapers, clergy, educators, and TV and radio commentators, who knew there was no Communist conspiracy and that Joe was making the whole thing up against a good Joe by the name of Stalin.

Bertrand Russell bravely took his life in his hand while here to denounce McCarthy on a TV broadcast that was watched by millions — from their cellars — as he assailed the senator for creating an atmosphere of fear in which no one could speak.

But that time is happily over and no one today believes there was a Communist conspiracy to infiltrate into all our institutions from the State Department to the movies; we know that Alger Hiss, the Rosenbergs, Judith Coplon, Owen Lattimore and Robert Oppenheimer were victims of smear campaigns by the same kind of kooks — Senate committees and similar riffraff—who did not realize that Mau was just an agrarian reformer who had never heard of Karl Marx and was simply spreading the doctrines of Confucius.

IT IS TRUE that Morris Ernst, noted liberal attorney, and Judge Ferdinand Pecora quit the National Lawyers' Guild—which they helped organize—when they discovered that the minutes of the meetings went to Moscow before being sent to the executive board. But certainly that can be attributed to a normal human error by the post office, rather than to a non-existent "world-wide conspiracy."

There is also some evidence that Communists seized control of the New York Teachers' Union; that every N. Y. newspaper and even magazines like Time had Commie cells; and that in Hollywood more than 300 (some of them famous names) were revealed as Red card-carriers. But that comes from the testimony of ex-Commies and isn't reliable. It's cultural to do business with Communists, but it's decidedly uncultural to accept any information from those who broke with the party.

The maligned suffered greatly. It took months before the "Hollywood Ten" could sell their stuff over, instead of under, the table to the movie industry. And it took several years before Oppenheimer got the Fermi Award and Owen Lattimore was permitted to act as agent for Outer Mongolia.

BUT McCARTHY is gone—and with him our doubts and fears of communism. Today, even as our young men die in Viet Nam, the doves among us are free to shout, "Yankee, go home!" as they demonstrate in behalf of a foe who has turned down every move to get him to the conference table. You can stop quivering, anonymous; it's the rest of us who are getting the shakes.

Over 15 years, the bond issue can be financed from increased airport revenues without raising taxes, Carr said.

The issue would provide for double the airport's passenger flow, complete an 8,000 - car garage and provide space for more cargo handling.

Park Land Is Eyed If Bond Issue Passes

If the county's $4.3 million parks bond issue passes, a large share of San Rafael's allocation should go to land acquisition for neighborhood parks, the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission recommended last night.

The bond issue will go to the voters June 7, and if it passes, San Rafael would receive $511,738 under an allocation formula based on population.

Commissioners recommended four projects to the city council, the largest being a land acquisition program for five neighborhood parks at a cost of $210,000.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said the bulk of the funds would go to land acquisition because rapid growth has created needs for neighborhood parks. "It is important to get the land now, and have development on a long-range program," he said.

Areas listed for the land acquisition program were Peacock Gap, $50,000; East San Rafael, $60,000; San Rafael Park area, $35,000; Twelve Oak Hill area, $35,000, and "other, $35,000."

The commission also recommended that $125,000 go toward a regional aquatic park in East San Rafael, with the county matching the $125,000.

With matching federal funds, the city and county allocations totaling $25,000 for the park, could be boosted to $500,000 for land acquisition and partial development, Rodota said.

Rodota proposed that the regional aquatic park be operated and maintained by the county rather than the city

The commission also recommended that $75,000 of the county bond funds go toward construction of a community recreation center at Albert Park.

Commissioners included $150,000 for the recreation center in their recommended capital improvement budget for fiscal 1967, but agred that $75,000 of the county bond funds could be used to finance the project.

They recommended that $50,000 be allocated toward Freitas Memorial Park in the Terra Linda annexation.

Rodota said he would classify the proposed Freitas Park as a regional park project of 60 acres which could be financed with matching funds from the county, and possibly federal matching funds.

Commissioners also recommended that $50,000 of the city's share of county park bond funds be placed in a contingency fund, to cover rising costs, low estimates, and minor projects that might be undertaken.

Gas Main Broken By Builders

A gas main was broken about 9 a.m. yesterday at a construction site on the old Grant Avenue School property in Novato.

Heavy equipment of Bobo's Construction Co. punctured the main at Highway 101 just south of De Long Avenue, said Eugene Malkemus, gas maintenance supervisor for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The gas was quickly shut off before any fire started. All service was switched over to a parallel, Malkemus said.

Hearing Delay Asked On Annex

Developers of Lucas Green have requested that their proposed annexation to the City of San Rafael be taken off the agenda for this evening's meeting of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, commission executive officer John F. Barrows reported today.

The annexation was earlier turned down by the commission. The action tonight was to be on whether an application for rehearing should be granted. The request for delay came from Leland H. Jordan, attorney for the developers.

The commission will probably reschedule the matter for May 5 if the continuance is granted, Barrows said.
